Stockholder Battle Ends At Crucible

Settlement Reached After Two Years In Company Dispute

Peace has come after two years in a dispute between a stockholders' group and the Crucible Steel Co. of America.

The settlement, approved late Wednesday afternoon by Judge Cornelius J. Harrington in an Illinois Circuit Court, becomes final Dec. 1, subject to hearings or. and objections that might be filed.

The stockholders, headed by Chicago financier Morris J. Rubin, and the company both agreed Wednesday on a slate of directors, a key measure in reaching the accord.

The directors include Max Wildman, Chicago attorney who was chief legal counsel for the Rubin group, and John C. Lobb, who became president of Crucible in May.

"WE ARE favorably impressed with the changes in Crucible that have taken place since we found it necessary to form our committee," Rubin said. He said he approved of Lobb's selection as president and of decisions made since Lobb took over.

Lobb noted the company's stock value had been depressed during the dispute. "Now that period is behind us and our financial flexibility has been restored," he said.

The company set its first annual meeting since 1965 for Dec. 14. Lobb said stockholders will be asked to authorize increased stock sales so the company can expand.

CRUCIBLE agreed to pay the dissidents up to $625,000 for their costs of doing battle with the company.

The Rubin group owns 104,000 of the firm's 4 - million - odd shares outstanding.

Rubin and his followers released "forever" the company and a host of its officers and other defendants from any liability arising from their origi-

463 Cong Are Killed, Report Says

Total Enemy Dead In 4-Day Battle Increase To 832

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong troops tried and failed again in a massive attack today to capture Loc Ninh, a district headquarters town they first struck last Sunday. U.S. and South Vietnamese soldiers, artillery and planes hurled them back.

Field dispatches said 463 Communists were killed in this fourth drive of the week on Loc Ninh, near the Cambodian frontier 72 miles north of Saigon.

If confirmed, the new casualty figure would push the total enemy dead through the running battle in that sector to 832.

Spokesmen reported the allied losses through the week totaled 35 dead and 106 wounded.

In the latest battle, the allies sent the Communists reeling with firepower including six 105mm howitzers, Air Force tactical fighter-bombers, eight-engined B52 saturation bombers and twin engine C47s armed with rapid-firing Gatling guns.

The fighter-bombers hit Communist positions with 72 strikes while the C47s fired 28,000 rounds of ammunition. B52s flew their third strike in two days on the Communist positions.

American troops suffered one dead and 11 wounded in the latest fighting. South Vietnamese casualties were put at five dead and 10 wounded. Total allied casualties reported for the five-day battle are eight American dead and 32 wounded an 23 South Vietnamese killed and 74 wounded.

Allied troops also reported capturing four prisoners of war from the Viet Cong's 273rd Regiment and 24 weapons, including three new Soviet designed RPG7 rocket launchers and two flamethrowers.

The assault on Loc Ninh, near the Cambodian border, was one of three Communist attacks up and down the countryside that also included the daring seizure of a South Vietnamese district headquarters hamlet that sits between two big American bases in the central lowlands 360 miles northeast of Saigon.

The Viet Cong burned down more than 300 homes in the assault on Dai Loc hamlet, killed seven civilians and wounded 10 before pulling out, military officers said.

Johnson Hits Congress On Tax Hike Plan

Declares Inaction Costing People By Feeding Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, accusing Congress of "taking the inaction route," says its refusal to approve his proposed income tax hike already is costing Americans by feeding inflation.

At a hurriedly called news conference Wednesday in the White House Cabinet Room, Johnson touched on topics ranging from Vietnam to the stock market but time and again came back to the theme that things are not going his way in Congress.

Later, this prompted Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., to sug-

Embalmer Noted Signs Of Life In GI

WASHINGTON (AP) — A young American soldier, pronounced dead of boobytrap wounds, showed signs of life while under the knife of a U.S. Army embalmer in Vietnam.

Spec. 4 Jacky C. Bayne, 22, of Fort Mill, S.C., was pronounced dead near Chu Lai last July 16 after doctors had worked for 45 minutes trying resuscitation.

His seemingly lifeless body was sent routinely to an Army graves-registration section nearby and it was sometime later—no one knows exactly how long—when the embalmer's knife made its first incision.

There was a faint flicker of life and Bayne was rushed back to a field hospital. After more resuscitation and numerous blood transfusions there were other signs of life.

Today, more than three months later, Bayne is moving toward at least limited recovery at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington.

The Bayne story was published today by the Knight newspapers after research and interviews by James Batten of the Washington Bureau.

Army doctors at Walter Reed call the Bayne story "amazing" and "astounding." No doctor interviewed could recall such a case before.

An official spokesman at the hospital emphasized that the Bayne case is a medical rarity and should cause no worry to relatives of men fighting in Vietnam.

"Every effort," said the hos-

Beaver Local To Ballot On $480,000 Bond Issue

Beaver Local School District's some 3,200 voters will cast ballots Tuesday on a proposed $480,000 bond issue for building improvements and will elect three board of education members.

The bond issue would provide additions at the high school and Public School to meet the need for more classrooms and facilities for the growing student population.

At the high school, eight new classrooms and a 1,000 - seat auditorium would be added, along with enlargement of the cafeteria and industrial arts area, and increased athletic dressing room space and facilities.

At the Public School, four additional classrooms would be erected.

Backers of the bond issue say the real estate taxes would be increased an average of $1.95 a year for each 1,000 property valuation, or for the average home, about $7.80 a year.

School authorities say the high school and Public School are overcrowded, with some classes held in music rooms, lunch rooms and language labs. Twenty high school classes have been cited by the state as too large.

PASSAGE OF the bond issue would alleviate this problem, permitting transfer of the ninth grade to the high school, and fifth grades to the Public School, freeing elementary classrooms for future growth.

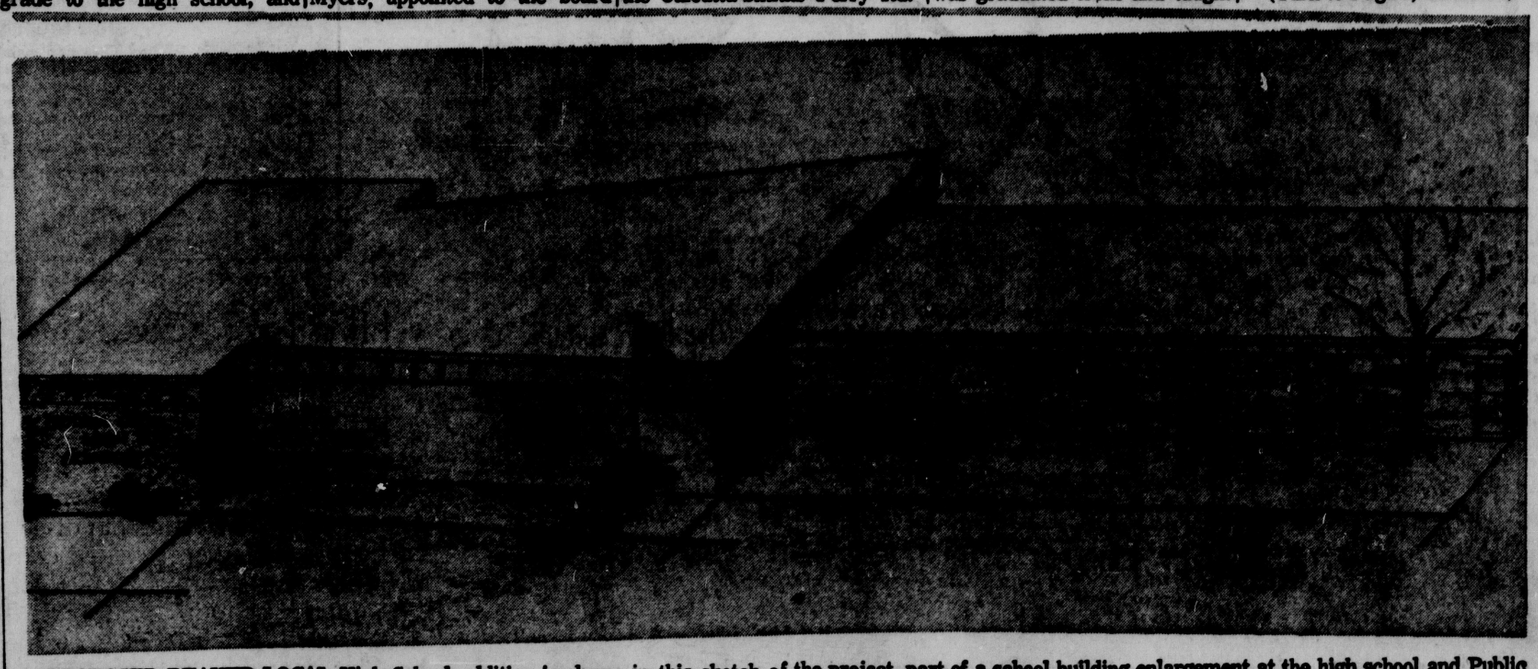

Two incumbent board members — Clayton Aughinbaugh of Calcutta and William Smith of Air Beacon Rd. — are opposed by six other candidates for the three open positions. Mrs. Lee Myers, appointed to the board after the death of her husband, is not running for election.

Others vying for the positions are Frederick Fraser of Lee St., George R. Wilkinson of Valley Dr., William R. Wolfe of Sunset Dr., Howard L. Wise of Rogers, Fred G. Simmen of Oakmont and Carl D. Fisher of the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd.

AUGHINBAUGH, of Maple Dr., Calcutta, is serving as president of the school board. Manager of the Potters Lumber Co., St. Clair Plaza, he was graduated from East Liverpool High School. He attended a school of cost accounting while in the Marine Corps, and later was graduated from and taught at the Ohio Valley Business College.

Trucker Gives Self A Shove

A Michigan truck driver resorted to "do it yourself" when his big rig, loaded with a high lift, became stuck on a sharp curve at the foot of the Route 168 hill at Midland this morning.

The rig, driven by Gerald Mattson of L'anse, Mich., driving for Pettibone Trucking Co. of Michigan, was headed uphill when the low slung trailer became lodged against a hump in the roadway. The rear wheels of the trailer were suspended in the air.

Mattson, unable to maneuver the rig around the site, finally unloaded the heavy highlift, used it to push the trailer off the hump, re-loaded the highlift, and was on his way. Traffic was tied up from about 8:45 a.m. until about 10 a.m.

GAMES

THE BOMB

RED, BLUE, YELLOW and BLACK.

An action funmaker for parties or play, Time Bomb creates explosive excitement whenever it's played. One player sets the timer on the "Bomb" — determining the number of seconds before it goes off — and tosses it to someone else. Back and forth it goes between players until the loser is caught holding the Time Bomb as it explodes in a loud but harmless "bang!" Young and old have a ball with this fast and funny action game.

BASH

Give it a Whack and reduce the stack. Here's a unique game that's all action. The object is to whack out a piece at a time with a plastic hammer and knock over the entire stack. Each player takes as many swings as he wants to in a turn but as more pieces are dislodged, the stack begins to wobble and teeter, making the next try more difficult. The first player to remove three or more squares in a turn gets the "Oh - Fooey" card which he can use defensively later in the game. Ages 5 to 12. For 2 or more players.

the East Liverpool Child Counseling Center.

Aughinbaugh is in favor of school levies only if the need actually exists and no other funds can be obtained. He indicated that updated changes in the academic level of the schools, through the guidance of the superintendent, are a constant need. "Secondary to the academic program is the athletic program, which should be able to carry its own financial burden," he noted. He said a school board should have a firm, written policy, aided by a constant program of updating, available for teachers and all others concerned.

FISHER, of the Calcutta - Smiths Ferry Rd., is employed by the Vernon Dell Dairy. He was graduated from East Liverpool High School. Married to the former Jacqueline Hargraves, he has one daughter, Candace Sue, a sixth grade student in the Public School.

Fisher also emphasizes the academic over the athletic programs. He says he supports a good relationship between the Board, superintendent and the teachers, adding that a sound relationship makes for a better school system. He underscores the vocational agriculture program, noting that a great many youths come from farms, but upon graduation, lose interest in agriculture. Fisher proposes the Board distribute a questionnaire to discover the attitude of the people about the system and improvements which could be made.

WOLFE of Sunset Dr., is a clerk in the city Post Office. He had formerly been employed with the Globe Brick Co. He is married to the former Agnes Bulger, who once operated the dance schools here. Their two children attend Beaver Local schools.

He is a member of Elks Lodge 258, Lions Club and the school Booster Club. He served with the Army in the Pacific during World War II, following his graduation from East Liverpool High School. He later was graduated from the Ohio Valley Business College. Wolfe is a member of the First Christian Church.

Wolfe is in favor of the bond issue, noting the crowded classrooms and the many new families and businesses entering the area yearly. He emphasized the academic program, but said that sports are needed to teach fair play, co-operation with others and general assets which may be applied to life in general. He declined to make campaign "promises," adding that he will do the best job he can.

SIMMEN, 42, of Ridgeview Dr., Oakmont, is a ceramic engineer at Hall China Co. His wife, Alyce, teaches a combined fifth and sixth grade at Horace Mann School. They are the parents of a son and two daughters, two of whom are in the school system.

Simmen served with the Navy during World War II. He was graduated from Rutgers University with a bachelors' degree in ceramic engineering, and attended Rider Business College, Rensselaer Polytechnical Institute, Ohio State and Kent State universities. He taught night school at Trenton Junior College and School of Industrial Arts and at the Penn State University Extension, Pittsburgh. He served as chairman of the County Community Action Committee for 1½ years.

Simmen said, "Emphasis on academic excellence, once apparent, is virtually non-existent today. He noted that new construction is needed, and that the value returned would far exceed the taxes, in his opinion. He is satisfied with the present varsity program, but would like to see one developed in the lower grades to provide better athletes and students in general. He concluded by pointing out that "inferior" teachers must be "shucked off" whenever possible, retaining the good ones, and that the teachers shouldn't be retained, "just because they're willing to stay; its the talent that counts."

WILKINSON, of Valley Dr., Calcutta, is employed as a field underwriter for the New York Life Insurance Co. A district resident for most of his lifetime, he is married and the father of four.

He said that he had no particular policy changes to advocate, but planned to face all matters with an open mind. He served for years on the Beaver Local Board and the balance of an unexpired term on the County Board of Education. He is in favor of the proposed bond issue which will provide additional classrooms for students.

FRASER, 34, of Calcutta, is a district manager for the Kent Co. of Elkhart, Ind., a firm which manufactures commercial maintinanace equipment. He and his wife, Margaret, have a son and daughter, both students in the system.

His wife teaches "Family Living" and Geography in the high school. Fraser attended the College of Steubenville and Youngstown University, where he majored in Business Administration, with special emphasis on accounting.

Fraser said he is seeking election because he is aware of many of the problems facing the board and teachers. Many of his friends and associates are teachers, he added. A program of specialized education for slow students is needed. Better communications between the administration, the Board and the teachers is also needed, he said.

SMITH, 41, of the Air Beacon Rd., has served one term on the school board. President of the Smith & Phillips Co., he is an elder in Trinity United Presbyterian Church. He has served on the Board of the Community Rescue Mission as well as in other civic groups. He was affiliated with Babson Institute.

He and his wife, Charlotte, have three daughters, two of whom are in the school system. Mrs. Smith is a parttime instructor at Youngstown State University, where she teaches communications.

Smith desires re-election, his wife said, because he believes that he can do the job. Smith was in North Carolina on business this week and was unavailable to outline his policies.

vacancy created when Democrat Nunzio Lombardozzi resigned earlier in the year.

Lombardozzi, who decided later to re-enter the arena, is unopposed in a bid for Third Ward councilman.

He points out the months he will have free until the first of the year will give him time to take care of his business matters, the press of which he cited in resigning earlier.

Todd was appointed to a place on the ballot held by John McGarey, who withdrew, by the Wellsville Republican committee.

THREE incumbents are running on the Democratic ticket. They are John E. Call of 1105 Riverside Ave., George Lawton, a city school teacher, and Robert Taggart of 1927 Chester Ave.

In the First Ward, Republican Frank J. Rossi of 206 5th St. is opposing the incumbent Democrat, Russell Keefer.

Democrat James A. Saracco of 600 Buckeye Ave. is making a bid to unseat the incumbent Second Ward Councilman, Republican Glenn Mathess, a Crucible employe.

Brad Phillips, Republican Fourth Ward Councilman, will run in name only against Democrat Walter E. Henthorne, formerly of 1712 Clark Ave. Henthorne has moved to Rochester, N. Y.

The Columbiana County Board of Elections has said that if Henthorne is elected, the newly-elected Council will appoint a replacement.

IN THE race for treasurer, Republican Thomas F. Grafton is opposing Democrat William Stroble of 714 Aten Ave.

A surprise primary victor, Republican William Bush of 435 Riverside Ave., Wellsville attorney, is unopposed for solicitor.

The 2-mill levy for the fire department would provide money for a new pumper and a new station.

Fire Chief Robert Lewis pointed out that if the levy passes, the first action would be the selection of a site for the station.

He mentioned the possibility of the city purchasing land on either side of the present facility to enlarge the area. He also explained that Main St. was probably the only street on which the station could be built logically, since it is the only thoroughfare wide enough to permit maneuvering of heavy equipment.

The Fire Department now has two pumping engines — one purchased by the city with a levy in 1950 and the other by the volunteers in 1955 and owned by them.

The truck the department plans to buy would replace the present pumper which would then go into reserve. Chief Lewis stated that by having this pumper in reserve, the city would receive favorable consideration by insurance companies.

The present fire station was built between 1865 and 1870 as a Catholic Church.

In 1908 the city remodeled it into a Fire Department consisting of two horse-drawn wagons, raising the ground floor to the second floor level and suspending it from three A frames.

Chief Lewis said the roof requires work once or twice a year and still leaks. The walls are cracked in two places from the foundation to the roof. The window frames, part of them the originals, are in deteriorating shape. The plumbing is half inch galvanized pipe — "and in terrible condition."

Chief Lewis said, "The present building has outlived it's usefulness as a fire station even if it was in the best of condition. This is because of two great changes in modern fire-fighting methods: We no longer have two horse - drawn wagons and the characteristics of the building make it impossible for us to have more than two doors for vehicles and we need four."

All of these problems and many other minor ones not mentioned, add up to the "fire defenses" of a community and its citizens. Voters must recognize them for what they are. They are first for the protection of life, second for the protection of property, and third, they are good business. It only makes sense to spend two dollars if by doing so you can make four. Citizens will have to chose whether they wish to pay for good fire defense or be charged by insurance companies for the lack of it.

Voters also will act on a renewal of a half-mill floodwall levy for five years. The revenue raised would, as in the past, be used for the maintenance and operation of the floodwall.

Decisions At Wellsville

Some crucial decisions face Wellsville voters in Tuesday's general election, ones which affect their pocketbooks and the general welfare of their city and their school district.

They will ballot on a proposed renewal of the half - mill levy for the flood wall; a new 2-mill levy for the fire protection system, and a new five - mill levy for the schools.

The importance of the flood wall to the river city is just as obvious as the need to continue the levy.

Approval of the fire protection levy would provide $22,000 a year for five years for obtaining a new truck and constructing a modern fire station to replace the present obsolete structure.

The funds would permit improvement of the city's fire fighting program, and would upgrade its efficiency to a great degree. If some improvements are not forthcoming in modernized equipment and facilities, an increase in fire insurance rates will result, authorities indicate.

Of prime importance is the school levy, for upon it depends sorely needed money for textbooks, supplies, equipment, substitute teachers pay and restoration of student activities eliminated this year because of lack of funds.

The levy actually received majority approval in the May primary, but failed to exceed the needed 55 per cent vote by 49 ballots. This time it will require only a majority vote.

The students deserve not only the basic education services the levy would bring, but the extra - curricular programs so meaningful and important to their young lives and to the community in general.

Passage of the school measure and flood wall levy is vital. The economy of investing in a new fire station and truck now, of keeping fire insurance rate classifications at the current level make it particularly important to support the fire protection levy.

All three relate to the needs of a progressive community, and should receive every voters' backing.

Salute To Spooks

Most of the district's young people proved that Halloween — just like the Fourth of July— can be safe and sane.

There were a few cases of offensive pranks, some real vandalism, an incident or two of downright stupidity. But the general pattern of real fun within the limits of good behavior and good taste prevailed.

The kids, law enforcement men, parents thoughtful enough to keep on the alert for trouble, Citizens Band operators who helped on patrols — all deserve a spooky salute.

Toward A Mideast Compromise

Israel's Premier Levi Eshkol presents a highly convincing argument in favor of direct negotiations for a Mideast settlement rather than through a third party.

He is accurate when he says direct contact can open the way to mutual understanding and peace through solution of nagging problems.

Direct negotiation is the most reasonable means of seeking settlement. But it takes two to negotiate.

The Arabs refuse to accept a direct discussion offer.

A stalemate results. A stalemate punctuated by violent acts on both sides. Perpetual turmoil.

Israel's desire to protect its sovereignty and to press for its own solutions to regional problems is most understandable.

But in the absence of the ideal method of arbitration, is handling the matter through the United Nations unacceptable as a compromise?

Israel has friends in the world organization. Israel has capable representatives. Hopefully, mistakes of the past could be avoided.

Perhaps the unfortunate legacy Israel has received in past United Nations actions makes it impossible for Israeli leaders to risk a repeat of history by turning over the burden of responsibility for a settlement to the United Nations.

Israel cannot turn its back entirely on the United Nations. It was the United Nations that made it a state nearly 20 years ago.

As time drags on, the refugee situation deteriorates, other areas of mutual concern grow and the present military posture begins to wear thin.

The Middle East is known for many things. One of them is change.

As undesirable as it may be to the Israeli point of view, the United Nations may become the only avenue open to a compromise settlement of some kind.

Firemen's Levy

For almost three decades East Liverpool voters have periodically been approving the 1-mill firemen's levy which provides funds for salaries of the department.

The efficiency and record of the fire department is recognized throughout the community, along with the very vital role the 30-man force plays in protection of life and property.

The five-year levy brings in about 25 per cent of the total salary of the department, and without it severe cutbacks in personnel would be required, fire insurance rates would no doubt rise.

Here is one issue the city resident cannot afford to ignore—his family, his home, his insurance expenses are directly affected. This is why the levy has been traditionally approved, this is why it should be approved Tuesday.

Letter From Cotton Corners

Dear Nephew: Your aunt and I are ready to exercise our franchises.

We have gone over the Cotton Corners candidates with a fine-tooth comb. They are as good as could be expected.

We can't expect anything in a place like this, because the jobs aren't worth having.

We could do better if we'd draw names out of a hat — a lot better because we would get more candidates that way. The trouble around here is that no one wants to run for fear he might win.

The pay isn't worth the grief that goes with it, especially if it's necessary to go through a campaign.

If we drew names out of a hat, on the other hand, people who now shun running for office would be willing to put their names in the hat.

When the deadline for putting in names was reached, a screening committee would get rid of all unqualified applicants — felons, aliens, chronic thieves and alcoholics, wife-beaters, compulsive gamblers and the like.

When this had been done, it wouldn't matter greatly whose name was pulled out of the hat, because all the survivors would be worthy of consideration.

The day for the final selection would be a public holiday so everybody could keep track of the proceedings and lay bets. Everything would be absolutely honorable because the name-pulling would be fool-proof.

This is how we would make sure. We would give the applicants secret names and pull the secret names, then match them with real names. That way, no one could rig the drawing, because no one would know the secret names. Slick, huh?

You want to know how we would handle re-election situations. Easy.

The screening committee would handle that by getting rid of all unworthy candidates, in the event the joker already in office was so clearly superior to everyone else he was above challenge.

And who would see to the incorruptibility of the screening committee? Why me, of course. Who else? Or somebody as incoorruptible as me.

This would not be representative democracy. It would be democracy by chance. But would anyone deny we would end up with a better grade of officeholders here in Cotton Corners than we have been getting under our present system of pride and prejudice?

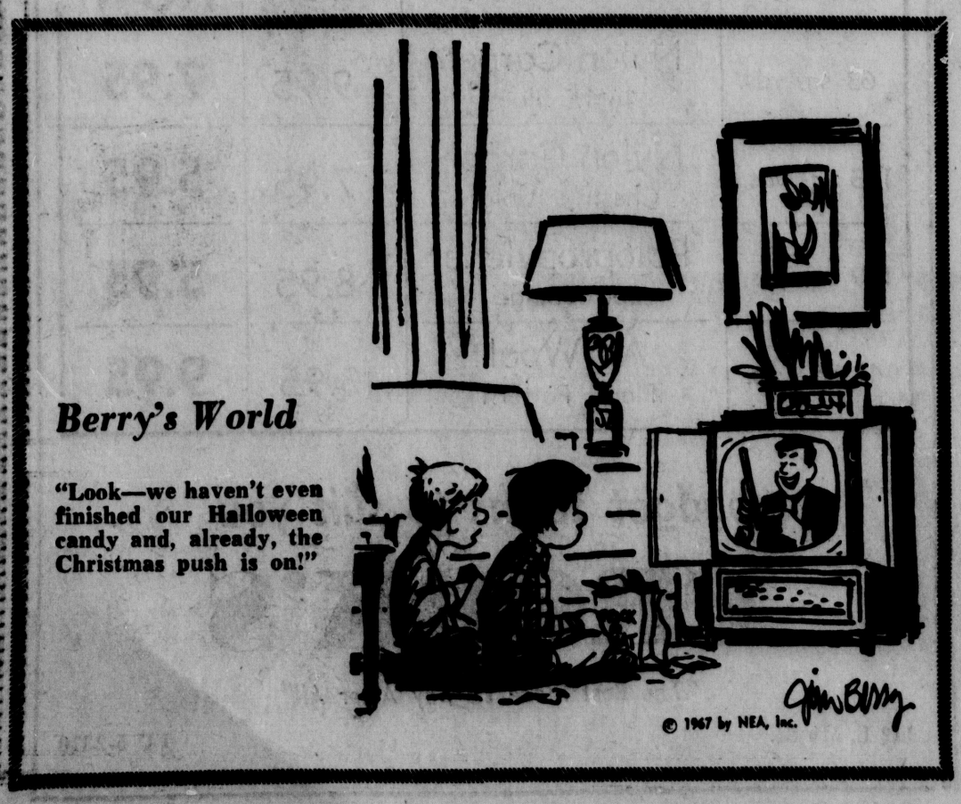

Let me know how things turn out in your part of the Republic. We think sometimes that representative democracy survives in spite of elections, not because of them.

Powell Excursions Probed

WASHINGTON — Adam Clayton Powell, Harlem's most prominent expatriate, is a great one for fishing in placid as well as troubled waters. Now, what that "extra" federal grand jury wants to know — or perhaps already knows — is: Did Powell heave to with Jimmy Hoffa's buddies off the Miami Beach shores in gayer, more carefree days.

Victor Riesel

The Teamsters loved this man from Manhattan. And there were fishing trips in saucy boats during which Adam regaled some of the Brotherhood's officials with even saucier tales.

One such voyage got old Adam into deep water. The Teamsters layed on three craft for him and part of his staff of ten. This was nothing new. The Teamsters, especially the Southern Conference fellows, were always watering men and, as befits chaps of status, had "The Yellow Rose of Texas" anchored off the fashionable Castaways Motel on the gold coast.

Its master, Teamsters seventh vice-president Murray (Dusty) Miller, is a grand host and, for a man from Dallas, a fairly accomplished seafaring man. The grand jury wanted to know from him whether his hospitality was extended to ex- (or is it) Congressman Powell whose powerful Education and Labor Committee positively controlled over 40 per cent of all social legislation handled by the U. S. Congress.

Also, of greater interest to A. C. Powell, who testified for 65 minutes before an ordinary federal grand jury last Sept. 11, is the extra jury's decision to learn who paid for the travel expense of Powell and some of his staff between the Potomac and the beach. Fishing as a guest of the Teamsters is not exactly official business.

FOR THE EXTRA JURY this has been no fishing expedition these past few weeks since it took over from the more formal jury sitting since last June. It has the hard data collected by the House committee which originally investigated and later provided the evidence for the House's ouster of Powell — who won't make a move for his seat until he hears from several courts, including the big one.

There is not only the matter of his wife's government checks (which he cashed) but also his placing his maid-housekeeper on the Education and Labor Committee payroll.

Also, the matter of orders for the purchase of plane tickets in the name of staff members whose trips were charged to the House Committee credit cards.

But what disturbs Powell's friends most is the task the extra grand jury took over from its older counterpart.

There are documents in the U.S. District Court dockets here which disclose that the original jury was probing possible violations of federal law prohibiting bribery of public officials and witnesses, false or fraudulent claims against the government, improper use of public financial records, and willful concealment of facts about false or fraudulent statements.

THE OLDER GRAND JURY prepared the way for the newer one by looking into alleged dealings between the former House labor committee chairman and labor and business groups. This phase of the regular jury's inquiry into Powell's activities reportedly was based on confidential allegations involving possible bribery. The allegations or charges arose during an investigation by the House of Representatives of Powell's tenure as chairman of his committee.

The allegations were dispatched to the Dept. of Justice last spring along with public records of the Powell hearings and the charges made by the investigators whose probe led to Powell's exclusion from the House last March 1. The House investigators passed the allegations on to the Justice Dept. as rumors because these were outside the House jurisdiction.

The documents containing these allegations now are in the Justice Dept.'s confidential files.

The Justice Dept. would not say who made these charges since the "matter now is in a grand jury proceeding." Powell has been as elusive as a latter-day Scarlet Pimpernel. Those who have contacted him most recently say he is moody and no longer as flip as he was. His critics are proliferating. Most labor leaders loath him because he was considered a "one-man road block" against legislation they considered vital. Most of his old professional staff now are all over the East in new activities and rarely see him. His old political machine is in the hands of others. Even his old relationship with House Speaker McCormack is stretched mighty thin. There are few to rally to the once swashbuckling Congressman.

Bimini, it looks like he's in trouble and mighty alone.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I read your editorial in Monday's paper and it sounded to me like you were carrying water on both shoulders or patting the School Board on the back with one hand and criticizing them with the other. There is nothing wrong with our schools that money won't help, and now that we have just received the much needed state allotment I know we will move forward.

I think the teachers got a little too much of the newly alloted money. They got a raise two years ago and now were given much more than the state schedule required out of this new tax money. I'm in favor of them getting this new raise but I was hoping more of this money would be used for school supplies, new books, library books, kindergartens, full curriculum courses, vocational training and physical educational programs. These things you all mentioned in your item.

Most of our students don't go to college and I think these are the forgotten students. More stress should be made on vocational training for these students and I so hoped more of this new tax money would be used for the students instead of the teachers getting so much. You know high salaries alone don't make good teachers.

Let's not get in too big a hurry about the new schools. They are progressing very rapidly, I think. Have you visited any of the sites lately: These new schools are a mighty big project and lots of money is involved. The biggest delay was in getting the State's OK on the plans. You know everything has to meet their specifications and it took a lot of planning, meetings, hard work, discussion and many, many trips to Columbus.

You blamed the board because the school levies failed. You and I and every honest person knows a lot of people blamed the failure on the board, this guy or that guy or some other weak excuse, 70 per cent of the school levies in the country failed. You can't blame that on our board. There has been too many levies on the ballots in the last four or five years and these levies are all paid by the property owner and most voters think the school levies should be paid by all. These are the two main reasons for school tax levy failures.

Let's all work hard for our schools and the welfare of our wonderful students. Let's not criticize unjustly — cooperation is what we want not confusion. Let's all join hands — that way no one will get stabbed in the back.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

In regard to the editorial in Saturday's Review, I want to add "Amen" to the suggestion for launching an amateur theater group in East Liverpool.

Having been associated with the former Salem group, the Tri - State, Sebring and also Alliance groups (the latter still going very strong and producing some very fine plays), I can state that this is one of the most rewarding undertakings anyone can have, either on stage or in the many other facets of little theater.

I think if more people would show an interest in such things, there would be less time for more unhealthy activities.

I for one, would be very interested in any efforts to get a little theater group started. Why should smaller places such as Salem and Alliance be able to support such things, while East Liverpool takes a back seat?

Of course, Salem's group is connected with the Memorial Building and gets a little support there, but their initial effort had more than 200 viewers.

Please follow up on this idea.

Deception

Members of Congress enjoy freedom of speech like anyone else, but some either have not read the U.S. Constitution or choose to forget its provisions as they make statements which misinform and mislead the public.

Several speeches in the House and Senate, widely reported in the press, give the impression President Johnson is carrying on a war in Vietnam without the consent of Congress and that the chief executive in this and preceding administrations has disregarded the Constitution in his use of the armed forces of the United States.

No president could carry on a single military operation a moment after Congress by resolution or by law withdrew authority for such acts.

Even today, Congress has the right to pass a law which would prevent the exccutive from continuing the Vietnam War. Congress could dictate the terms of withdrawal, and the President would have to abide by such a command.

IT HAS BEEN argued that President Truman sent American forces into the Korean War in 1950 without consent of Congress. No formal "declaration of war" was made, but Congress promptly exercised its power to supply funds and authorizations for the use of the military forces.

The Constitution says:

"The Congress shall have power . . . to raise and support armies . . .

"To make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces . . . "To provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the union, suppress insurrections and repel invasions . . .

"To make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers, and all other powers vested by this constitution in the government of the United States, or in any department or officer thereof."

The founding fathers didn't foresee the possibility of a nuclear attack, but in the Constitution they explicitly ordered the executive branch of the government to protect each state "against invasion."

Certainly a nuclear attack would be an "invasion" by air. The President, therefore, has the right to launch a deterrent attack on an enemy without waiting for the Senate and House to go through the legislative process.

The Seante, by a two-thirds vote, already has given the President broad authority in Europe by ratifying the North Atlantic Treaty, which requires the President instantly to help repel invasion of any member country without a "declaration of war" by Congress.

Sometimes, a president doesn't deem it desirable to request a formal "declaration of war." This is because under international law an obligation arises to search and seize neutral as well as enemy ships.

But such action might paralyze American trade, too, so sometimes the step is not taken. Congress, however, at any time can pass a resolution formally declaring "a state of war" or can deny it after a president's request.

The final power rests entirely with Congress.

THUS, TO SAY that President Johnson is today exceeding his authority in Vietnam is to disregard the Tonkin Gulf resolution passed by Congress in 1964, which authorized the President "to take all necessary measures to repel any armed attack against the forces of the United States and to prevent further aggression" in Southeast Asia.

It has been argued that Congress didn't intend to authorize large-scale operations by U.S. military forces in Vietnam.

If this is true, both houses can at any moment pass a resolution repealing their previous action or reaffirming it.

President Johnson has repeatedly pointed this out. Congress, moreover, in the last few years has passed many bills appropriating billions of dollars for the Vietnam War. Not a single expenditure could have been made without authorization by a majority of the members of both the Senate and House.

It only confuses people when members of Congress ignore the words of the Constitution and talk about the Vietnam war as an allegedly unconstitutional operation.

Fishing as a guest of the Teamsters is not exactly official business.

FOR THE EXTRA JURY this has been no fishing expedition these past few weeks since it took over from the more formal jury sitting since last June. It has the hard data collected by the House committee which originally investigated and later provided the evidence for the House's ouster of Powell — who won't make a move for his seat until he hears from several courts, including the big one.

There is not only the matter of his wife's government checks (which he cashed) but also his placing his maid-housekeeper on the Education and Labor Committee payroll.

Also, the matter of orders for the purchase of plane tickets in the name of staff members whose trips were charged to the House Committee credit cards.

But what disturbs Powell's friends most is the task the extra grand jury took over from its older counterpart.

There are documents in the U.S. District Court dockets here which disclose that the original jury was probing possible violations of federal law prohibiting bribery of public officials and witnesses, false or fraudulent claims against the government, improper use of public financial records, and willful concealment of facts about false or fraudulent statements.

THE OLDER GRAND JURY prepared the way for the newer one by looking into alleged dealings between the former House labor committee chairman and labor and business groups. This phase of the regular jury's inquiry into Powell's activities reportedly was based on confidential allegations involving possible bribery. The allegations or charges arose during an investigation by the House of Representatives of Powell's tenure as chairman of his committee.

The allegations were dispatched to the Dept. of Justice last spring along with public records of the Powell hearings and the charges made by the investigators whose probe led to Powell's exclusion from the House last March 1. The House investigators passed the allegations on to the Justice Dept. as rumors because these were outside the House jurisdiction.

The documents containing these allegations now are in the Justice Dept.'s confidential files.

The Justice Dept. would not say who made these charges since the "matter now is in a grand jury proceeding." Powell has been as elusive as a latter-day Scarlet Pimpernel. Those who have contacted him most recently say he is moody and no longer as flip as he was. His critics are proliferating. Most labor leaders loath him because he was considered a "one-man road block" against legislation they considered vital. Most of his old professional staff now are all over the East in new activities and rarely see him. His old political machine is in the hands of others. Even his old relationship with House Speaker McCormack is stretched mighty thin. There are few to rally to the once swashbuckling Congressman.

Bimini, it looks like he's in trouble and mighty alone.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

I read your editorial in Monday's paper and it sounded to me like you were carrying water on both shoulders or patting the School Board on the back with one hand and criticizing them with the other. There is nothing wrong with our schools that money won't help, and now that we have just received the much needed state allotment I know we will move forward.

I think the teachers got a little too much of the newly alloted money. They got a raise two years ago and now were given much more than the state schedule required out of this new tax money. I'm in favor of them getting this new raise but I was hoping more of this money would be used for school supplies, new books, library books, kindergartens, full curriculum courses, vocational training and physical educational programs. These things you all mentioned in your item.

Most of our students don't go to college and I think these are the forgotten students. More stress should be made on vocational training for these students and I so hoped more of this new tax money would be used for the students instead of the teachers getting so much. You know high salaries alone don't make good teachers.

Let's not get in too big a hurry about the new schools. They are progressing very rapidly, I think. Have you visited any of the sites lately: These new schools are a mighty big project and lots of money is involved. The biggest delay was in getting the State's OK on the plans. You know everything has to meet their specifications and it took a lot of planning, meetings, hard work, discussion and many, many trips to Columbus.

You blamed the board because the school levies failed. You and I and every honest person knows a lot of people blamed the failure on the board, this guy or that guy or some other weak excuse, 70 per cent of the school levies in the country failed. You can't blame that on our board. There has been too many levies on the ballots in the last four or five years and these levies are all paid by the property owner and most voters think the school levies should be paid by all. These are the two main reasons for school tax levy failures.

Let's all work hard for our schools and the welfare of our wonderful students. Let's not criticize unjustly — cooperation is what we want not confusion. Let's all join hands — that way no one will get stabbed in the back.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

In regard to the editorial in Saturday's Review, I want to add "Amen" to the suggestion for launching an amateur theater group in East Liverpool.

Having been associated with the former Salem group, the Tri - State, Sebring and also Alliance groups (the latter still going very strong and producing some very fine plays), I can state that this is one of the most rewarding undertakings anyone can have, either on stage or in the many other facets of little theater.

I think if more people would show an interest in such things, there would be less time for more unhealthy activities.

I for one, would be very interested in any efforts to get a little theater group started. Why should smaller places such as Salem and Alliance be able to support such things, while East Liverpool takes a back seat?

Of course, Salem's group is connected with the Memorial Building and gets a little support there, but their initial effort had more than 200 viewers.

Please follow up on this idea.

Deception

Members of Congress enjoy freedom of speech like anyone else, but some either have not read the U.S. Constitution or choose to forget its provisions as they make statements which misinform and mislead the public.

Several speeches in the House and Senate, widely reported in the press, give the impression President Johnson is carrying on a war in Vietnam without the consent of Congress and that the chief executive in this and preceding administrations has disregarded the Constitution in his use of the armed forces of the United States.

No president could carry on a single military operation a moment after Congress by resolution or by law withdrew authority for such acts.

Even today, Congress has the right to pass a law which would prevent the executive from continuing the Vietnam War. Congress could dictate the terms of withdrawal, and the President would have to abide by such a command.

IT HAS BEEN argued that President Truman sent American forces into the Korean War in 1950 without consent of Congress. No formal "declaration of war" was made, but Congress promptly exercised its power to supply funds and authorizations for the use of the military forces.

The Constitution says:

"The Congress shall have power . . . to raise and support armies . . .

"To make rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces . . . "To provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the union, suppress insurrections and repel invasions . . .

"To make all laws which shall be necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers, and all other powers vested by this constitution in the government of the United States, or in any department or officer thereof."

The founding fathers didn't foresee the possibility of a nuclear attack, but in the Constitution they explicitly ordered the executive branch of the government to protect each state "against invasion."

Certainly a nuclear attack would be an "invasion" by air. The President, therefore, has the right to launch a deterrent attack on an enemy without waiting for the Senate and House to go through the legislative process.

The Seante, by a two-thirds vote, already has given the President broad authority in Europe by ratifying the North Atlantic Treaty, which requires the President instantly to help repel invasion of any member country without a "declaration of war" by Congress.

Sometimes, a president doesn't deem it desirable to request a formal "declaration of war." This is because under international law an obligation arises to search and seize neutral as well as enemy ships.

But such action might paralyze American trade, too, so sometimes the step is not taken. Congress, however, at any time can pass a resolution formally declaring "a state of war" or can deny it after a president's request.

The final power rests entirely with Congress.

THUS, TO SAY that President Johnson is today exceeding his authority in Vietnam is to disregard the Tonkin Gulf resolution passed by Congress in 1964, which authorized the President "to take all necessary measures to repel any armed attack against the forces of the United States and to prevent further aggression" in Southeast Asia.

It has been argued that Congress didn't intend to authorize large-scale operations by U.S. military forces in Vietnam.

If this is true, both houses can at any moment pass a resolution repealing their previous action or reaffirming it.

President Johnson has repeatedly pointed this out. Congress, moreover, in the last few years has passed many bills appropriating billions of dollars for the Vietnam War. Not a single expenditure could have been made without authorization by a majority of the members of both the Senate and House.

It only confuses people when members of Congress ignore the words of the Constitution and talk about the Vietnam war as an allegedly unconstitutional operation.

2 Men Indicted For Murder Of Girl, Boyfriend

NEW YORK (AP) — Indictments charging murder and rape have been filed against two men in the deaths of an 18-year-old girl, member of a rich Greenwich, Conn., family, and her hippie boy friend during an LSD party in the East Village.

The Manhattan ground jury indictments were handed up Wednesday against Donald Ramsey and Thomas Dennis, 26-year-old Negroes.

The victims, both white, were Linda Fitzpatrick and James Hutchinson, 21, who was known as "Groovy" in the East Village hippie class where he was a chieftain of sorts.

In addition to the murder charges, Ramsey and Dennis are accused of raping Miss Fitzpatrick. The two men have been held without bail since their arrest shortly after the bludgeoned bodies of Miss Fitzpatrick and Hutchinson were found in a tenement house basement Oct. 8 by Fred Wright, 31, assistant superintendent of the building.

A separate indictment handed up Wednesday charged Wright and Ramsey with raping a 22-year-old woman in the same building just before the murders. Wright has been held in lieu of $50,000 bail.

Three More Ohioans Killed In Viet Action

2 Men Indicted For Murder Of Girl, Boyfriend

NEW YORK (AP) — Indictments charging murder and rape have been filed against two men in the deaths of an 18-year-old girl, member of a rich Greenwich, Conn., family, and her hippie boy friend during an LSD party in the East Village.

The Manhattan ground jury indictments were handed up Wednesday against Donald Ramsey and Thomas Dennis, 26-year-old Negroes.

The victims, both white, were Linda Fitzpatrick and James Hutchinson, 21, who was known as "Groovy" in the East Village hippie class where he was a chieftain of sorts.

In addition to the murder charges, Ramsey and Dennis are accused of raping Miss Fitzpatrick. The two men have been held without bail since their arrest shortly after the bludgeoned bodies of Miss Fitzpatrick and Hutchinson were found in a tenement house basement Oct. 8 by Fred Wright, 31, assistant superintendent of the building.

A separate indictment handed up Wednesday charged Wright and Ramsey with raping a 22-year-old woman in the same building just before the murders. Wright has been held in lieu of $50,000 bail.

Harding Asks 5th Term In Election At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — A mayoralty race between incumbent Robert Harding, Republican seeking his fifth term, and James Rudloff, a Democrat and a newcomer in politics, will highlight the Tuesday's general election.

Harding, 52, of 163 Wood St. operates the Klare China Co., while Rudloff, also 52, of 602 Park Ave. is a foreman at the Royal China Corp. plant. Harding won nomination in the May primary election by a narrow margin over James H. Lynch, a councilman - at - large. Rudloff was unopposed.

Two veterans will square off in the race for president - of-council, where Frank L. Early, Republican incumbent faces Byron D. (Bud) Cope: Early, a meat market clerk, has previously served as an at - large councilman, and Cope, a foreman at the Franklin Furniture Co. in Columbiana, has sought the mayoralty post and other offices in past elections.

East Palestine Republicans, the dominant power in politics here for many years, offer a full slate in their effort to maintain control of all elective municipal offices, while the Democrats do not have a candidate for solicitor, and are represented by only two candidates in the at - large council race in which three will be elected.

Wilbur Spaite Sr., a veteran grocer, is the Democratic candidate for treasurer, a post held for some 30 years by Charles W. Gandy, retired Pennsylvania Railroad Co. ticket agent, who is seeking another term.

Another longtime City Hall figure, Auditor George Archibald, a retired pottery worker and a Republican, is making a bid for re-election against a newcomer, William J. Paes Jr., who is employed in the accounting department at the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co.

Atty. Jack H. Cohen, a partner in the Cohen and Allison law firm, is seeking another term as solicitor. He is unopposed.

Two newcomers — Theodore (Ted) Israel and Carl Anderson —carry the Democratic standard in the at - large council race. Israel is principal of the Captain Taggart and Negley Elementary Schools, and Anderson is a foreman in the mill room at the Kenmar Mfg. Co. plant.

Opposing them are two incumbents, Paul J. Adams, a Purol Co. distributor, and Russel E. Patton, cashier and secretary at the Union Commercial & Savings Bank, along with Wayne W. McCauley, who currently is serving as First Ward Councilman. McCauley is an assistant supervisor with the signal department of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co.

In the First Ward, Elbert Seagle, Republican, is a newcomer in the political arena. He is a superintendent's clerk in the open hearth department at the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co.

His Democratic opponent, also new in politics, is James Little, a foreman with the Codo Mfg. Co., of Leetsdale, Pa.

Democrat Edmund McCarthy is making his political debut as a Second Ward Council candidate. He is employed at the National Rubbery Machinery Co. in Columbiana.

Opposing McCarthy is Halsey (Bud) Allard, an unsuccessful candidate in the May primaries of 1965 for that post. Allard is a salesman with the Adamson Tank Co.

In the Third Ward Paul E. McCauley, a moldmaker for the Kingwood China Co., is seeking re-election, opposed by Democrat Edward Ungaro, a newcomer in politics who is employed by the County Highway Department.

The lone woman candidate—Mrs. Wilma Whan — is the Democratic nominee for the Fourth Ward Council post. She is employed in the offices of the American Realty Co., at Rogers.

Her opponent is Robert C. Berresford, an insurance agent. Both are making their first bids for office.

James Allison and Mrs. Dorothy Rockenberger, incumbent board of education members, are seeking re-election with competition from Dale Murphy of Negley and Walter C. Hacker of the Negley - New Waterford Rd.

Allison, an attorney, is president of the board. Mrs. Rockenberger is an attorney and housewife. Both have served one term.

Murphy operates a television store. Hacker is an appliance repairman for a Youngstown firm.

Blackout Hits County Areas In Pole Fire

LISBON — A large section of central - eastern Columbiana county was without electricity from 8:20 to 10:25 Wednesday night.

The trouble began in Pleasant Heights just east of Lisbon, where a resident reported the top of a utility pole on fire at 7:20.

A trouble-shooter reached the scene at 8:20, just as the burning crossarm fell and shorted the 12,500-volt circuit wire.

Crewmen worked in a steady rain and switched wires to restore service in the Pleasant Heights section at 8:40. Then they had to raise a new crossarm and fasten the wires.

Deane Beck, Salem area manager for the Ohio Edison Co., said the fire probably was caused by a broken insulator that allowed the wire to come in contact with the wooden arm.

Strike Continues

LOGAN, Ohio (AP) — About 350 production workers at the Carborundum Co. plant here remained off the job Wednesday in a strike over grievances and working conditions.

Budget Plans Are Outlined

INDUSTRY —The 1968 budget was discussed when Industry Council met Wednesday night.

James Muns, finance chairman, requested committee chairmen submit estimates of expenses to him so that he may present a tentative budget at the next meeting. In accordance with recent borough code changes, the budget must be prepared and accepted by Dec. 31.

Homer Paul presided.

James Wright of Michael Baker Jr., Inc., is serving the borough as continuing planner. Wright met with the Borough Planning Commission Monday night and received authorization to apply for Project 70 funds for developing recreation areas. The first step before application will be made is to appraise areas that have been earmarked for development for this purpose.

Mayor Steve Suchanec's police report for October listed 23 complaints, two accidents, two arrests and 1,500 logged for police work. Bills totaling $6,939 were paid.

Council will meet again Dec. 6 at 7:30 p. m.

During Federation Meeting Here

Women's Group Holds Installation

THESE NEW OFFICERS were installed during the meeting of the East Liverpool Federation of Women's Clubs Wednesday night at Mary Patterson Memorial. They are, left to right, Miss Selma Ladzinske, Quota Club, second vice president; Mrs. C. Marvin Kinsey, Child Study Club, first vice president; Miss Gladys DeBolt, installing officer; Miss Betty Buben, Newell Junior Women's Club, president; Miss Karole Kapp, Business and Professional Women's Club, recording secretary, and Mrs. Stephen Sinclair, Travelers Club, corresponding secretary. Miss Della Ingles, Business and Professional Women's Club, treasurer, was not present.

Installation of officers featured the fall meeting of the East Liverpool Federation of Women's Clubs Wednesday night at Mary Patterson Memorial.

In giving the obligation to the group, Miss Gladys Debolt discussed the "Changing of the Guard" and reminded the purpose of the organization was "to unite women of the community in promoting various worthwhile endeavors."

Mrs. Sidney C. Porter Jr., retiring president, extended the welcome and led the audience in repeating the club collect.

She introduced her retiring standing committee chairmen, Mrs. Norman Birnbaum, program; Mrs. Richard Martin and Mrs. William Blair, social; Miss Kay Edwards, project; Mrs. Charles B. Lang and Mrs. Tait Hilbert, decorations; Mrs. Robert H. Jones, shoes and clothing; Mrs. William Christopher, Senior Citizens; Mrs. Myer Alpern, awards; Mrs. G. Richard Jones, radio, and Mrs. Lester Hall, publicity.

PROGRAM booklets included reports of all the committee chairmen. The BPW Club had the largest representation with 22 present.

Miss Buben announced the new committees, with the New Century Club to handle the program and the Bible Literary Club the decorations.

Other committee chairmen are Mrs. Everett Chandler, social; Mrs. Larry Walton, project; Mrs. Austin Krick, senior citizens; Mrs. Lawrence Sixt, awards; Mrs. Jones, radio, and Mrs. Hall, newspaper.

Mrs. Donald Wolfe was named parliamentarian; Mrs. Delmar Jividen, auditor, and Mrs. Theodore Burke, chairman of the nominating committee.

Mrs. Birnbaum introduced Mrs. Harriet Woodcock of Pittsburgh, who reviewed the Broadway production "Funny Girl" concerning the life of Fanny Brice. In dialect, she portrayed the various roles, including Miss Brice's mother and her husband, Nick Arnstein. She reviewed the life of the performer from her beginning on amateur nights, to her career on Broadway with Florenz Ziegeld to her characterization of "Baby Snooks" on radio.

MRS. WOODCOCK interspersed her performance with the singing of "I'm The Greatest Star," "Who Taught Her Everything She Knows," "I Want To Be Seen with You" and "Don't Rain on My Parade." During the singing of "Henry St.'" she presented a tap dance routine. Mrs. David Kuhlber was accompanist.

An appropriate background was featured in the stage, highlighted with racks of dated clothing, large feathered hats, a dressing table and trunks. A canopy was formed of blue and aqua streamers.

Refreshments were served by members of the Coterie, Helen Gould Literary and Child Study Clubs. The buffet table was covered with a blue felt cloth and centered with a circlet of white chrysanthemums interspersed with blue maline. Above was suspended a topiary bouquet of the same flowers and maline. White tapers in triple silver candelabra completed the setting. Mrs. Porter and Mrs. Kinsey poured at the silver service.

The spring meeting will be held in April.

Officers said Stoakes, headed west, crossed over the center line and collided with the oncoming Mattes car.

Ohioan Found Guilty In Death Of Woman

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Hamilton County Common Pleas Court jury found Mark L. Brunner guilty of first-degree manslaughter Wednesday in the death of a woman who Brunner contended killed herself.

Brunner, 35, Cincinnati, was not sentenced but Judge Louis J. Schneider said he is subject to a 1-20 year prison term.

Johnson

gest the President should look to his own party. With a heavy majority in both House and Senate, "the Democrats must take the blame or credit for what is done or not done," Mundt said.

Asked about his high-priority request for a tax increase, the President said he is still plugging for it, but that its fate rests with the House Ways and Means Committee.

"We think that it will cost the American people much less by taking the tax route that we have suggested than be taking the inaction route that is now being followed," he said.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield responded to the prodding by pledging "we'll do our best to give him what he wants."

Mansfield said he agrees with the President that Congress should stay in session until it passes a tax-increase bill.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the Ways and Means Committee declined comment on the President's remarks but the House Republican whip, Rep. Leslie C. Arends of Illinois, predicted flatly that for this year, at least, "there will be no tax bill."

And Rep. John H. Rhodes of Arizona, chairman of the House Republican Policy Committee, added: "The President just hasn't got the message, namely that there will be no tax bill consideration until the administration shows some inclination to cut down spending."

At his news conference, Johnson restated his position that Congress should be doing the cutting.

"I think they will cut $4 or $5 billion out of the appropriations that we have recommended this year," he said. "I will sign those bills they send me, although I think some of them are close ones."

What hurts—in lost revenue, interest payments and inflation-fanned price rises—the President said, is inaction in the taxes-spending dispute.

"Now we are doing nothing," he said. "We are at a standstill."

When a reporter asked Johnson to comment on recent downturns in stock prices, Johnson again put the blame on Congress.

"I think when you have an uncertain future," he said, "you have uncertain markets and you have uncertain stock prices. Some of this uncertainty is being reflected in the market. I think it is being reflected in the bond market and in the interest rates.

"I think you are paying every day—more than you know, right this moment—for the inaction that is taking place and for the refusal of our people to stand up and take the action that responsibility requires."

Johnson also said he was "greatly distressed" at the heavy cuts Congress has made in some of the administration's programs such as model cities and rent subsidies.

Two Are Fined Here In Traffic Violations

Two were fined on traffic charges in Municipal Court here this morning.

Charles F. Neiser, 49, of 1851 Michigan Ave. paid $25 and costs on a charge of driving left of center on the Cannons Mills Rd. filed by the Ohio Highway Patrol.

Fined $5 and costs was Joseph Moward of 1807 Boundary St., Aliquippa, a teacher here, on a charge of running a stop sign at the intersection of Route 170 and a ramp on the Freeway.

He was cited by highway patrolmen Oct. 22 at 8:33 p. m.

Odors Vanish In Plant Area, Board Told

Odors have abated in the vicinity of the Chester sewage plant, the Water and Sewage Board learned Wednesday night.

Glenn Wilson, spokesman for a group of residents living in the Mill Addition near the plant, appeared at the meeting to inform members there are no further complaints about the smell which a group protested during a meeting in September.

Sewage plant operator Leonard Cowey said odor control devices have been installed again on a trial basis.

The board ordered the odor abatement action reinstated after the earlier meeting with residents.

Cowey said the San-Fax Corp. of Atlanta, Ga., installed its system about three weeks ago on a 90-day trial basis.

Cowey declared he has received no more complaints about the odors, but noted that some of the smell may have abated because of the change in weather.

Cowey said the odor always becomes less of a problem when cold or rainy weather sets in, and added that the odor control might not take care of the entire problem during hot months.

Residents had complained they were unable to sit in their yards or carry on normal activities this summer because of the odors which hung over their portion of the community.

Annual Dinner Event Set By Hospital Staff

C. Robert Cattrell, president of the Board of Trustees, announced that the meeting will be held at 6:30 in the hospital dining room.

Anderson, whose talk will be entitled "The Promise of the Ocean," will be making his second appearance at the annual dinner meetings. He was guest speaker in 1963.

pital spokesman," is made to apply resuscitative measures whenever there is any hope of saving a patient."

Army doctors use a variety of tests to establish death before giving up on men wounded in combat. Only when there is no spontaneous breathing, no audible heart beat, no pulse and no activity on an electrocardiogram do doctors conclude that the patient is dead.

In the Bayne case, all these signs of death were apparent. "By all the accepted criteria he was dead," said one Army doctor.

His progress has been steady but Army doctors say that the human brain cannot be deprived of blood for more than four or five minutes without suffering damage.

"But he's really been improving quite remarkably," said an Army doctor familiar with the case.

This doctor, who declined to be identified, gave much of the credit to Bayne's 61-year-old mother. Mrs. Bunia Bayne has staved at her son's side since he arrived at Walter Reed in early August.

"He says the Lord brought him back from Vietnam," said Mrs. Bayne.

During the four months Bayne was in Vietnam before he was wounded he wrote his mother several letters.

"He wrote, 'Please don't say I shouldn't be here. I should be here. It makes one appreciate their family and the country they live in,'" Mrs. Bayne said.

Hearing

Judge Chertoff he had talked with Mrs. June Burgess and that she no longer was "'100 per cent positive" Cunningham was the man who robbed her.

Mrs. Burgess, of 703 Avondale St., was on duty at the grocery when the $231 holdup occurred.

Chertoff then called the woman to the bench and questioned her about the identity of the thief.

Mrs. Burgess exclaimed, "No, I'm positive." She told the judge she had changed her mind since talking with Clark and once again believed Cunningham was the man who staged the stickup.

Clark, obtaining a five-minute recess, then conferred with the woman before asking for the continuance.

An objection by Cunningham's attorney, Mike Kapp, was overruled and Chertoff set the new arraignment date.

Kapp told the judge Cunningham is entitled to a speedy hearing, but Chertoff decided on the basis of Mrs. Burgess' reversal this morning the state should have more time for preparation.

Chertoff also continued Cunningham's bond.

An alleged case of "mistaken identity" earlier had freed Cunningham of a charge that he had held up the Little Diner on Harvey Ave. Oct. 9.

The development came after the diner was entered again following that date and the young man involved told the proprietor, Mrs. Nellie Taylor, "They got the wrong bandit." When Mrs. Taylor agreed and told police that the gunman was the same who had struck earlier, Cunningham was cleared of the Little Diner case.

Steel Haulers Set Meeting On Job Issue

GARY, Ind. (AP) — William Kusley, organizer of the violence-marked nine-week steel haulers strike which forced a pileup of half a million tons of steel in warehouses, said today he has called a meeting to discuss possible resumption of the strike.

Kusley said the meeting of steel hauler organization delegates at Detroit Saturday night will consider the problem of companies not putting some of the independent haulers back to work.

"I should know later today or Friday if the companies are going to put the haulers back to work," Kusley said at his home here. "If they don't, I will have to put the problem before the delegates as to whether we'll go back on strike."

He said he would release no information until Saturday night.

Asked about his high-priority request for a tax increase, the President said he is still plugging for it, but that its fate rests with the House Ways and Means Committee.

"We think that it will cost the American people much less by taking the tax route that we have suggested than be taking the inaction route that is now being followed," he said.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield responded to the prodding by pledging "we'll do our best to give him what he wants."

Mansfield said he agrees with the President that Congress should stay in session until it passes a tax-increase bill.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the Ways and Means Committee declined comment on the President's remarks but the House Republican whip, Rep. Leslie C. Arends of Illinois, predicted flatly that for this year, at least, "there will be no tax bill."

And Rep. John H. Rhodes of Arizona, chairman of the House Republican Policy Committee, added: "The President just hasn't got the message, namely that there will be no tax bill consideration until the administration shows some inclination to cut down spending."

At his news conference, Johnson restated his position that Congress should be doing the cutting.

"I think they will cut $4 or $5 billion out of the appropriations that we have recommended this year," he said. "I will sign those bills they send me, although I think some of them are close ones."

What hurts—in lost revenue, interest payments and inflation-fanned price rises—the President said, is inaction in the taxes-spending dispute.

"Now we are doing nothing," he said. "We are at a standstill."

When a reporter asked Johnson to comment on recent downturns in stock prices, Johnson again put the blame on Congress.

"I think when you have an uncertain future," he said, "you have uncertain markets and you have uncertain stock prices. Some of this uncertainty is being reflected in the market. I think it is being reflected in the bond market and in the interest rates.

"I think you are paying every day—more than you know, right this moment—for the inaction that is taking place and for the refusal of our people to stand up and take the action that responsibility requires."

Johnson also said he was "greatly distressed" at the heavy cuts Congress has made in some of the administration's programs such as model cities and rent subsidies.

Two Are Fined Here In Traffic Violations

Two were fined on traffic charges in Municipal Court here this morning.

Charles F. Neiser, 49, of 1851 Michigan Ave. paid $25 and costs on a charge of driving left of center on the Cannons Mills Rd. filed by the Ohio Highway Patrol.

Fined $5 and costs was Joseph Moward of 1807 Boundary St., Aliquippa, a teacher here, on a charge of running a stop sign at the intersection of Route 170 and a ramp on the Freeway.

He was cited by highway patrolmen Oct. 22 at 8:33 p. m.

Odors Vanish In Plant Area, Board Told

Odors have abated in the vicinity of the Chester sewage plant, the Water and Sewage Board learned Wednesday night.

Glenn Wilson, spokesman for a group of residents living in the Mill Addition near the plant, appeared at the meeting to inform members there are no further complaints about the smell which a group protested during a meeting in September.

Sewage plant operator Leonard Cowey said odor control devices have been installed again on a trial basis.

The board ordered the odor abatement action reinstated after the earlier meeting with residents.

Cowey said the San-Fax Corp. of Atlanta, Ga., installed its system about three weeks ago on a 90-day trial basis.

Cowey declared he has received no more complaints about the odors, but noted that some of the smell may have abated because of the change in weather.

Cowey said the odor always becomes less of a problem when cold or rainy weather sets in, and added that the odor control might not take care of the entire problem during hot months.

Residents had complained they were unable to sit in their yards or carry on normal activities this summer because of the odors which hung over their portion of the community.

Annual Dinner Event Set By Hospital Staff

STEUBENVILLE — An address by Richard J. Anderson, assistant to the director of the Ohio Laboratories of Batelle Memorial Institute at Columbus, will highlight the annual dinner meeting of the medical and dental staff and Board of Trustees of Weirton General Hospital tonight.

C. Robert Cattrell, president of the Board of Trustees, announced that the meeting will be held at 6:30 in the hospital dining room.

Anderson, whose talk will be entitled "The Promise of the Ocean," will be making his second appearance at the annual dinner meetings. He was guest speaker in 1963.

pital spokesman," is made to apply resuscitative measures whenever there is any hope of saving a patient."

Army doctors use a variety of tests to establish death before giving up on men wounded in combat. Only when there is no spontaneous breathing, no audible heart beat, no pulse and no activity on an electrocardiogram do doctors conclude that the patient is dead.

In the Bayne case, all these signs of death were apparent. "By all the accepted criteria he was dead," said one Army doctor.

His progress has been steady but Army doctors say that the human brain cannot be deprived of blood for more than four or five minutes without suffering damage.

"But he's really been improving quite remarkably," said an Army doctor familiar with the case.

This doctor, who declined to be identified, gave much of the credit to Bayne's 61-year-old mother. Mrs. Bunia Bayne has stayed at her son's side since he arrived at Walter Reed in early August.

"He says the Lord brought him back from Vietnam," said Mrs. Bayne.

During the four months Bayne was in Vietnam before he was wounded he wrote his mother several letters.

"He wrote, 'Please don't say I shouldn't be here. I should be here. It makes one appreciate their family and the country they live in,'" Mrs. Bayne said.

Hearing

Judge Chertoff he had talked with Mrs. June Burgess and that she no longer was "'100 per cent positive" Cunningham was the man who robbed her.

Mrs. Burgess, of 703 Avondale St., was on duty at the grocery when the $231 holdup occurred.

Chertoff then called the woman to the bench and questioned her about the identity of the thief.

Mrs. Burgess exclaimed, "No, I'm positive." She told the judge she had changed her mind since talking with Clark and once again believed Cunningham was the man who staged the stickup.

Clark, obtaining a five-minute recess, then conferred with the woman before asking for the continuance.

An objection by Cunningham's attorney, Mike Kapp, was overruled and Chertoff set the new arraignment date.

Kapp told the judge Cunningham is entitled to a speedy hearing, but Chertoff decided on the basis of Mrs. Burgess' reversal this morning the state should have more time for preparation.

Chertoff also continued Cunningham's bond.

An alleged case of "mistaken identity" earlier had freed Cunningham of a charge that he had held up the Little Diner on Harvey Ave. Oct. 9.

The development came after the diner was entered again following that date and the young man involved told the proprietor, Mrs. Nellie Taylor, "They got the wrong bandit." When Mrs. Taylor agreed and told police that the gunman was the same who had struck earlier, Cunningham was cleared of the Little Diner case.

Steel Haulers Set Meeting On Job Issue

GARY, Ind. (AP) — William Kusley, organizer of the violence-marked nine-week steel haulers strike which forced a pileup of half a million tons of steel in warehouses, said today he has called a meeting to discuss possible resumption of the strike.

Kusley said the meeting of steel hauler organization delegates at Detroit Saturday night will consider the problem of companies not putting some of the independent haulers back to work.

"I should know later today or Friday if the companies are going to put the haulers back to work," Kusley said at his home here. "If they don't, I will have to put the problem before the delegates as to whether we'll go back on strike."

He said he would release no information until Saturday night.

Democratic Incumbent Tate Faces Specter Tuesday

Philadelphia Mayoralty Election May Be Factor In '68 State Trend

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The outcome of the red-hot and sometimes name-calling mayoralty election next Tuesday in the nation's fourth largest city may be a factor in how Pennsylvania goes in the 1968 presidential election.

The bitter contest, with bossism and reform major issues, has Democratic incumbent James H. J. Tate fighting for his political life against a young, handsome campaigner.

Republican Arlen Specter, who quit the Democratic Party in 1965 to win the district attorney's post, is about an even choice to derail Tate's second-term bid and regain GOP control of City Hall for the first time in 16 years. Political observers believe it could go either way by a whisker.

Democrats in 1951 ended 68 straight years of Republican rule. Joseph S. Clark (now U.S. Senator) was elected mayor on a reform ticket. Specter, hopeful of becoming Philadelphia's first Jewish chief executive, claims Tate dumped reform in favor of boss rule. He promises to revive good government.

Tate — with Clark co-chairman of his campaign—argues his administration is continuing the city's revitalization and moving forward to new horizons.

Philadelphia, with nearly one million registered voters—Democrats ahead 3 to 2—has been a factor in presidential elections for three decades, leading this normally Republican state into the Democratic column five of the eight times since 1936. The GOP captured the Keystone State's electoral votes in 1948, with Thomas Dewey and in 1952-56 with Dwight Eisenhower—but Philadelphia went Democratic every time.

Both parties imported big names for their major $100-a-plate fund-raising dinners.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said a Democratic victory was crucial for next year. And Massachusetts' Sen. Edward Brooke, the only Negro in the Senate, said GOP presidential chances will be enhanced in Pennsylvania with a Republican mayor here.

Three minority candidates could influence the ballot outcome. Two Negroes—Cecil B. Moore of the Political Freedom Rights Party and the Rev. Leonard L. Smalls of the Consumers Party—probably will drain Democratic support. Joseph J. Frieri of the Constitutional Party likely will attract Republicans.

Tate, 58 to Specter's 37, has spent most of his adult life in the rough and tumble of ward politics, and still lives in the North Philadelphia neighborhood where he was born. He earned a night school law degree but never went into practice.

Specter was born in Wichita, Kans. He rocketed to fame as one of the investigating counsel for the Warren Commission probe of the John F. Kennedy assassination. Denied the Democratic nomination for district attorney, he jumped to the Republican ballot and upset incumbent James C. Crumlish.

Polls give Specter a slight edge. Tate calls them rigged.

Tate, a gravel-voiced, stumbling speaker, has built his campaign on a slogan of "It's Performance That Counts." Specter, a sure, smooth debater who has left the mayor blooded in their verbal confrontations, appeals for support on a platform of "Performance Not Promises."

Campaign oratory has been harsh and scrimonious. Specter claims his religion has been raised in the campaign, but declines to say how or when—and Tate, a Catholic, denies it.

Tate, labeling Specter the hand-picked choice of Republican bosses, charged in a statement his opponent imitated Communist tactics "by placing politics above the law" by refusing to resign as district attorney as required under the city charter.

Specter, replying, said Tate resorts "to the kind of vicious campaigning that destroys the very meaning of politics in a free society."

Quarrels Seen As Motive For Jersey Slayings

ABSECON, N.J. (AP) — A long series of domestic quarrels was offered today as the motive for a prosperous business executive slaying his wife and three children before taking his own life. He even killed a pet dog.

Police said Michael Belluscio, 44, apparently was tormented by repeated arguments and fights with his 40-year-old blonde wife Mamie. The couple had separated several previous times, police said.

Neighbors described Belluscio—a balding, husky 200-pounder—as a "nice, quiet guy," but said he had a short temper. Last April, police reported, he was fined $20 and given a 90-day suspended sentence for assaulting his wife.

The mass shooting occurred in the family's $40,000, 10-room colonial home Wednesday.

Belluscio, general district manager for a bottling company in nearby Atlantic City, telephoned police Chief William Taggart and said calmly: "I just killed my family, I'm going to kill myself."

Pagodas are religious structures. In India, a pagoda may be an addition to a temple or a temple itself; in China, it is often a memorial building.

Five More Retire From Crucible

Five hourly employes, including three from East Liverpool, retired Wednesday at the Midland Division of the Crucible Steel Co.

Local residents retiring were Claude Gochenour, centerless grinder in Bar Finishing-East, with 31 years service; William H. Cunningham, a janitor in the Open Hearth, 16 years service, and William E. Millbaugh, a coal dumper in the Power Department, 15 years service.

Also retiring was Eugene D. Knox of Salineville, a heater in the Blooming Mill, a position he held the last 20 years. He had 30 years service with the company.

Arnold J. Rose of Beaver retired with 39 years service. He was employed in the Blooming Mill during his entire service.

Officer Probe Scheduled In Caldwell Case

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police Chief Richard Wagner says he will make an investigation to determine if a Cleveland policeman muffed a chance to prevent the ordeal that marred the honeymoon of Charles and Lida Caldwell.

Caldwell, 18, was shot in the face by Robert Batch, who was waiting at the couple's honeymoon suite when they returned Saturday from their wedding in Detroit.

Batch, 23, then took the 19-year-old bride to his apartment in suburban University Heights and held her captive until Monday afternoon when he shot her in the chest and then killed himself with a bullet in the heart.

Wagner promised the investigation after Mrs. Paul D. Chilton claimed that police ignored a complaint she made Friday about Batch, which she said "quite possibly could have prevented the tragedy."

Mrs. Chilton lives in the building where Caldwell lived with his mother and two brothers.

She said she saw Batch lingering around the apartment house Thursday evening and most of Friday," acting nervous and strange as he sat there in his car."

She said she called police Friday afternoon, but they never came around to check on the complaint.

10 Employes To Vote In Election Nov. 8

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ten employes of Air Products and Chemicals, Inc., of Middletown, Ohio, will vote in a collective bargaining election Nov. 8, the National Labor Relations Board has announced.

All production and maintenance workers are eligible to decide on representation by Local 91 of the International Union of Operating Engineers.

Sentence Set In Check Case

LISBON — Raymond J. Dresch, 37, of Wauseon was sentenced to 1 to 7 years in the Ohio Penitentiary Wednesday when he pleaded guilty to a charge of issuing a fraudulent check.

Indicted by the September grand jury, Dresch withdrew his previous plea of not guilty and asked Judge Joel H. Sharp of Common Pleas Court to sentence him immediately.

The defendant's record showed three prior felonies — two grand larcenies in Ohio and a worthless check in Kansas.

In other criminal court activity yesterday, the court approved applications of James T. Martin, 31, of Poland, for a bill of particulars, and for permission to take depositions from the Rev. Fr. Thomas Beldue of St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Leetonia, Albert Weikart of Washingtonville and Steve Molnard of the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation.

Judge Sharp said the bill of particulars is to be ready by Nov. 3 and the depositions are to be taken before Dec. 5.

Martin and James Black, 32, of New Castle, Pa., were indicted by the September grand jury on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon on Fr. Beldue.

The priest emptied his pistol in an exchange of gunfire with two intruders Sept. 3 at St. Patrick's rectory. Police say ballistic reports showed that bullets removed from the defendants were fired from the priest's pistol. A bullet fired by one of the intruders grazed the pastor's head.

Black is in the Columbiana County Jail following release Tuesday from the hospital at Western Pennsylvania Penitentiary. He appeared before Judge Sharp yesterday and said he does not have money to employ counsel. The judge said he will appoint an attorney.

Classes Resume Following Melee At Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Classes resume today at racially mixed Oliver High School with civic leaders and educators trying to ease tensions that flared into a fist-swinging melee put down by police.

"We have made appropriate preparations and anticipate no more trouble," said Superintendent of Schools Dr. Sidney P. Marland Jr., who rushed back from a Washington,, D.C., meeting to handle the problem personally.

Marland said civic leaders, social agencies and clergymen have been consulted. He said "they may or may not be on hand today at the opening of school."

Police said they were making a fullscale investigation of an incident Tuesday night said to have triggered the disturbance at the school Wednesday.

Officer Probe Scheduled In Caldwell Case

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police Chief Richard Wagner says he will make an investigation to determine if a Cleveland policeman muffed a chance to prevent the ordeal that marred the honeymoon of Charles and Lida Caldwell.

Caldwell, 18, was shot in the face by Robert Batch, who was waiting at the couple's honeymoon suite when they returned Saturday from their wedding in Detroit.

Batch, 23, then took the 19-year-old bride to his apartment in suburban University Heights and held her captive until Monday afternoon when he shot her in the chest and then killed himself with a bullet in the heart.

Wagner promised the investigation after Mrs. Paul D. Chilton claimed that police ignored a complaint she made Friday about Batch, which she said "quite possibly could have prevented the tragedy."

Mrs. Chilton lives in the building where Caldwell lived with his mother and two brothers.

She said she saw Batch lingering around the apartment house Thursday evening and most of Friday," acting nervous and strange as he sat there in his car."

She said she called police Friday afternoon, but they never came around to check on the complaint.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Ten employes of Air Products and Chemicals, Inc., of Middletown, Ohio, will vote in a collective bargaining election Nov. 8, the National Labor Relations Board has announced.

Sentence Set In Check Case

LISBON — Raymond J. Dresch, 37, of Wauseon was sentenced to 1 to 7 years in the Ohio Penitentiary Wednesday when he pleaded guilty to a charge of issuing a fraudulent check.

Indicted by the September grand jury, Dresch withdrew his previous plea of not guilty and asked Judge Joel H. Sharp of Common Pleas Court to sentence him immediately.

The defendant's record showed three prior felonies — two grand larcenies in Ohio and a worthless check in Kansas.

In other criminal court activity yesterday, the court approved applications of James T. Martin, 31, of Poland, for a bill of particulars, and for permission to take depositions from the Rev. Fr. Thomas Beldue of St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Leetonia, Albert Weikart of Washingtonville and Steve Molnard of the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation.

Judge Sharp said the bill of particulars is to be ready by Nov. 3 and the depositions are to be taken before Dec. 5.

Martin and James Black, 32, of New Castle, Pa., were indicted by the September grand jury on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon on Fr. Beldue.

The priest emptied his pistol in an exchange of gunfire with two intruders Sept. 3 at St. Patrick's rectory. Police say ballistic reports showed that bullets removed from the defendants were fired from the priest's pistol. A bullet fired by one of the intruders grazed the pastor's head.

Black is in the Columbiana County Jail following release Tuesday from the hospital at Western Pennsylvania Penitentiary. He appeared before Judge Sharp yesterday and said he does not have money to employ counsel. The judge said he will appoint an attorney.

Council, Board Hold Key Interest

Midland Campaign In The Stretch

With the campaigning in the home stretch, the issues are about to be dropped in the laps of the voters in Midland's Nov. 7 general election.

Races for three seats on Council and three on the Board of Education hold major interest.

The three incumbent councilmen, Ray (Hezzie) Presutti, Joseph A. Hibbard and Joseph D'Alesio, all Democrats, are opposed by Angeline R. Vranich, Michael Kashi and Angelo Nola, Republicans. The posts are for four year terms.

Two Republicans and the three Democrat incumbents are seeking the three seats on the board of school directors. The incumbents are Edward Cilli, James Cerasi and James J. Morrison. The GOP candidates are Dr. James V. Swinker and James M. Ferretjans.

Nick Zaroy, a Democrat, is unopposed for a four-year term as an assessor. Mary Petrosky, Republican, is opposing Frank D'Eramo, Democrat for a six year term as auditor while Carmen Cananzi, Democrat, is unopposed for a six year term as constable.

MRS. VRANICH of 660 Beaver Ave., a self-employed beauty shop proprietor, has had no previous experience in public office. Married, she has two sons, and is a member of the Catholic Daughters of America, ISDA, Christian Mothers, secretary of the Mothers Athletic Club and past president of the Presentation Athletic Club.

Mrs. Vranich says she feels the community needs officials with more foresight and says the proper recreational and cultural interests for the youth should be cultivated. She said the community has created ill feelings with neighboring communities and has suffered for it. "Midland, instead of being progressive during the past 10 years has steadily become regressive," she added.

Kashi, 46, is an assistant roller at the Crucible Steel Co., Midland Division. He is married and has one child. A 1940 high school graduate, he served 28 months in the 322nd Combat Engineers during World War II. He is a member of the American Legion, Moose Lodge and VFW. He has not had any experience in public office.

KASHI SAID "There are many problems, but one of the most important is why the town is not growing when the mill is expanding all the time." He says council should attempt to solve this.

Nola, 50, of 609 Beaver Ave. has been employed at Crucible 33 years and is a rigger foreman. A Navy veteran, he is married and has three children. He is a member of the Glasgow Lodge and has not held a public office.

Nola says one of the foremost problems of the community is "air pollution" and keeping main street cleaner. He says he would strive to have city and state officials work with Crucible for solution to the air pollution and have the street washed at least once a month.

Presutti, 35, has served as a councilman for 10 years. A 1950 high school graduate, he is married and the father of three children.

A two year Army veteran, he has been a pipe fitter at Crucible 17 years. He is a member of the CIO and the St. Anthony Club. He has held union offices.

Presutti says the smoke problem from the mills and the shortage of doctors are two major problems. He says he will continue to work to have the state adopt laws on air pollution and continue advertising for a physician.

HIBBARD, 61, resides at 3 West Dr. He is married and the father of three boys. He has been employed 38 years at Crucible and is a billet mill lifting table operator. He is a member of Local Union 1212, the Presentation Catholic Church and serves as a director of the Crucible Credit Union. He has held union offices.

A former councilman, he served nine years. He also was on the Board of Education 12 years, serving six as president. He was a tax assessor for two years.

Hibbard lists air pollution, the youth program and the school system as the foremost problems. He said the community should continue striving for clean air, build recreation facilities and work for the merger of Midland schools with other systems.

D'Alesio, 54, is former president of Local 1212. He has served 12 years as a councilman and is a member of the Knights of Columbus, American Legion, VFW, DAV and Presentation Catholic Church.

A resident of 1233 Virginia Ave., he is married and has one child. He served 42 months in the Army Airway Communication Service and has been employed 34 years at Crucible as an electrical millwright leader.

—:—

SMOKE CONTROL, water pollution, highways in and out of Midland and traffic are considered major problems by D'Alesio. He says his policy will be to work to have legislation enacted to give the power to a second class city to enact laws to the Councilmanic Act.

The school director positions are for six year terms.

Cilli, 45, resides at 724 Virginia Ave. He has served eight years on the board. Married, he is the father of three children and has been employed as assistant borough secretary three years.

He attended DeVry Institute of Electronics at Chicago and the CLU Course at Duquesne University. A four year Marine veteran, he is a member of the Lions Club, St. Anthony Club, American Legion Post 481, Turkaly-Richards Marine Corps Detachment, the Pennsylvania School Directors Association and Beaver County Boro Association. He served as president of the board at one time.

Consoliation of the elementary schools is considered by Cilli as a problem. In regard to a new elementary school, he said application has been approved by the state for a new building. An architect will be designated and site will be selected. The method of financing has to be resolved, he said.

CERASI, 29, resides at 565 Virginia Ave. He has been on the board two years. He attended Youngstown University and has been employed nine years as a shipper and loader at Crucible. He is a member of the Presentation Catholic Church and St. Anthony Club.

Cerasi says he will work to get the maximum education "miles" out of the tax dollar.

Morrison, a resident of 335 Penn Ave., is employed in the public relations department of Crucible.

Morrison, a member of the board since 1955, is a past president. He is secretary of the Human Relations Commission, a member of the Rochester Hospital Corporation Board, an auditor of the Beaver County School Directors Association and a member of the First Baptist Church.

He said, "With the ever-increasing demands that are being brought to bear on public education, one of the most pressing and challenging problems facing school directors everywhere is that of providing a curriculum that will meet the demands of a changing society and go beyond minimum standards. This type of curriculum must be designed to meet the individual needs of the children."

He also said the loss of students in Midland, has, in a measure, created problems in the area of per-pupil cost.

Dr. Swinker, who resides at 1061 Ohio Ave., is an optometrist. He is a member of Rotary Club, the Midland Sportsmens Club, Knights of Columbus and American Legion. He has not held a public office. He is a graduate of Duquesne University and the Pennsylvania College of Optometry.

Humphrey Takes Tour In Malaysia

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey took an architectural tour in the hot Malaysian sun today, looking at mosques and monuments and a Parliament tower he liked so much that he said: "I hope my government officers see that because they believe in building squares."

Humphrey, here for three days on a swing through Southeast Asia, guided his tour off its itinerary to go inside the modern, 18-story tower. He sat down in the Parliament speaker's chair, praised the acoustics, and wished they could be as good in some Washington buildings.

Asked how the chair compared with the one he uses when presiding over the U.S. Senate, Humphrey laughed: "Mine is more wobbly in more ways than one."

The vice president's arrival in the Malaysian capital from Vietnam Tuesday night touched off scattered anti - American demonstrations, but none were reported today.

Humphrey later took his shoes off to visit the national mosque and exchange gifts with Malaysia's king, Yang di-Pertuan Abang.

Meanwhile in Indonesia, which Humphrey visits next, the official news agency Antara said that U.S. "determination to expand and intensify the Vietnam war has caused it to lose sympathy from some of its loyal friends." The agency said Humphrey can see for himself when he comes to Indonesia that it "does not need any big foreign power to help it crush Communists in the country."

Pranksters Tied To Blaze Which Levels Building

Halloween pranksters have been blamed for a fire which swept a small building at a summer home near West Point Tuesday night.

The arson report was submitted by Deputy Sheriff Kent Garvey and Fire Chief Ed Bergman of West Point following an inspection of the site Wednesday afternoon.

They discovered that a propane gas tank which firemen found jetting flame halfway across the shed from an outside wall had been removed from the wall of the summer home near by.

A toppled outhouse also attested to Halloween vandalism.

Garvey checked the tax map records at the Courthouse and found that Herman Gussenhofen of Smiths Ferry owns the 19-acre tract. It is behind the Buckeye Coal tipple on Route 30, about a mile northwest of the Route 45 junction.

The fire consumed the 14-by-16-foot building and furniture stored inside.

Tax Increase, Aged Benefits Bill Advances

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to increase Social Security benefits and taxes by a minimum of 15 per cent has passed the Senate Finance Committee in nearly the form called for by President Johnson.

The administration bill entails a much higher percentage increase in the lowest brackets—the minimum monthly payment would be raised from $44 to $70—then the House version passed in August.

The House bill included a 12½ per cent across-the-board increase with a $50 minimum. Any difference between the two final versions will have to be settled in a compromise by a House-Senate conference.

As they now stand the two versions also differ in the amount of increase in the payroll tax—matched by the employer—and the wage base against which the tax is levied.

The Senate panel voted to raise the individual tax to 4.8 per cent next year compared to 4.4 per cent now. The House voted to begin the higher rate in 1969. The House also voted to raise the wage base to $7,600 in 1968, compared to $6,600 this year.

Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., of the Senate panel, said it probably will settle on a $7,800 base next year as proposed by the administration.

Such a base would mean a maximum 1968 levy of $374.40. The highest levy this year is $290.40.

Copeland Gives October Report On Area Weather

The first killing frost (Oct. 13 with 26 degrees) was sandwiched between the high of 82 degrees, on Oct. 3 and the low of 21 on Oct. 29.

Sixteen clear days were interspersed with 11 cloudy and four partly cloudy days during October, Copeland concluded.

Companies Begin

J. A. Work Here Gets Under Way

From soup to nuts—well almost. At least from ironing boards to Christmas wreaths.

That's the range of what 150 area youths in the Junior Achievement program are producing this year as operators of manufacturing and service companies, Jerry Winstead, program manager, has announced.

—:—

JUNIOR Achievement's eight-month program of economic education got under way Oct. 25.

Since then six companies have been formed to give the 150 boys and girls between 15 and 19 the opportunity to learn all phases of business through the operations of their own enterprises.

To date, some companies have begun producing and selling their wares, others are still working out assembly line problems and a few have been delayed by inavailability of raw materials, Winstead said.

Most companies will rely on door-to-door sales, but a few are hoping to negotiate "wholesale deals."

Among the products to be manufactured will be plastic wall plaques, Christmas wreaths, candles and ironing boards.

Each Junior Achievement company is counseled by a local enterprise, which provides at least three advisers for guidance on business, sales and production.

THE COMPANIES to date include:

Japco, plastic wall plaque, counseled by the J. C. Penney Co. and the First National Bank.

Webco, counseled by the Potters Bank and Trust Co.

WSCO, counseled by radio station WOHI.

JACS, counseled by the Midland Division of the Crucible Steel Co.

Two more companies, to be formed next week, will be counseled by Patterson Industries and the First National Bank.

—:—

TYPICAL of the organizations activated is Japco.

Adult advisers to the junior firm explained to the teen-agers the manner in which they would operate during the coming year.

They presented a charter application explaining the necessity for a business to be properly chartered and called for suggestions on a product to be manufactured, made some suggestions themselves and the teen-agers, after weighing the advantages, decided to manufacture a plastic wall plaque. The name then was decided.

The advisers then explained the necessity of capital to finance the venture. It was decided that this capital should be raised through the sale of stock at $1 per share. The teen-agers prepared a prospectus for use in selling their stock, voted an initial capitalization of $150 and practiced with one another the sales talk they would use in merchandising their securities.

The Junior Achievement headquarters is at 516 Market St.

Jail Term Set On 2 Charges

A man charged with shoplifting at Loblaws supermarket on Bradshaw Ave. was ordered to the County Jail at Lisbon for 60 days this morning after he pleaded guilty to one charge and was found guilty by Municipal Judge Samuel Chertoff on another.

Albert E. Shasteen, of Old Routes 30 and 7, was charged Wednesday by Lt. Paul A Burson Jr., with shoplifting and resisting arrest after allegedly taking two cartons of cigarettes from the market and then fleeing from Burson — a stockboy at the store — when Burson attempted to apprehend him about 4:17 p.m.

The cigarettes were valued at $5.54, Burson said.

He said he chased Shasteen down Walnut St. and then apprehended him in the A & P parking lot.

Shasteen pleaded guilty to the shoplifting charge, but entered a not guilty plea in the resisting charge.

Chertoff, after questioning both men, found Shasteen guilty and sentenced him to 30 days on each charge. The terms will run consecutively.

After Shasteen was apprehended he was taken to City Hospital where he was treated for an abrasion of the back. He was X-rayed for a pain in his left wrist and then released.

Burson said he had to tackle Shasteen at the parking lot.

School Levy Vote Set For Lisbon Area

LISBON — Lisbon exempted village school district residents will vote Tuesday on the renewal of a 16-mill operating levy.

It brings in $192,000 of the $295,200 derived annually from school district taxes. There is another voted operating levy of 4 mills and a 4.6-mill (unvoted) levy inside the 10-mill limitation.

Supt. Joe W. Driscoll said the 16-mill levy will run out in 1968 and the renewal would be for five years. He called renewal "imperative because Senate Bill 350 requires that a school district have at least 17.5 mills voted for operations by Nov. 30, 1968, to continue to receive state monies."

Failure of the renewal Tuesday would mean the added expense of submitting it again next year, Driscoll said, and failure then would mean the district would lose $400,000 received annually in state foundation program funds.

Crucible

nal charge that Crucible was being turned over to the control of California industrialist Norton Simon, contrary to shareholder interest.

The big battle had begun in early 1966 when Crucible management, spotting a flurry of stock buys by the Rubin group, invited Simon — a key figure in California's Hunt Foods and Industries — to buy heavily into the firm as a counterweight in the expected proxy fight.

BY YESTERDAY'S settlement, Rubin and his group accepted the presence of Simon as a director and an influence in Crucible.

The dissidents' suit had prevented the firm from holding its normal April meetings in 1966 and this year.

The powerlessness to meet began to pinch seriously after Lobb took over with plans to make several acquisitions requiring new issues of stock and therefore shareholder approval. That vote can now be taken Dec. 14.

Among factors leading to peace, the two sides said, was the dissidents' conclusion that no merger of profitable Crucible and money - losing Wheeling Steel Corp. is contemplated. Simon had been dominant influence in Wheeling before last April.

Council, Board Hold Key Interest

Midland Campaign In The Stretch

With the campaigning in the home stretch, the issues are about to be dropped in the laps of the voters in Midland's Nov. 7 general election.

Two Republicans and the three Democrat incumbents are seeking the three seats on the board of school directors. The incumbents are Edward Cilli, James Cerasi and James J. Morrison. The GOP candidates are Dr. James V. Swinker and James M. Ferretjans.

"Midland, instead of being progressive during the past 10 years has steadily become regressive," she added.

Nola says one of the foremost problems of the community is "air pollution" and keeping main street cleaner. He says he would strive to have city and state officials work with Crucible for solution to the air pollution and have the street washed at least once a month.

Presutti, 35, has served as a councilman for 10 years. A 1950 high school graduate, he is married and the father of three children.

A two year Army veteran, he has been a pipe fitter at Crucible 17 years. He is a member of the CIO and the St. Anthony Club. He has held union offices.

He served as president of the board at one time.

Consolidation of the elementary schools is considered by Cilli as a problem. In regard to a new elementary school, he said application has been approved by the state for a new building. An architect will be designated and site will be selected. The method of financing has to be resolved, he said.

Morrison, a member of the board since 1955, is a past president. He is secretary of the Human Relations Commission, a member of the Rochester Hospital Corporation Board, an auditor of the Beaver County School Directors Association and a member of the First Baptist Church.

He said, "With the ever-increasing demands that are being brought to bear on public education, one of the most pressing and challenging problems facing school directors everywhere is that of providing a curriculum that will meet the demands of a changing society and go beyond minimum standards. This type of curriculum must be designed to meet the individual needs of the children."

He also said the loss of students in Midland, has, in a measure, created problems in the area of per-pupil cost.

Dr. Swinker, who resides at 1061 Ohio Ave., is an optometrist. He is a member of Rotary Club, the Midland Sportsmens Club, Knights of Columbus and American Legion. He has not held a public office. He is a graduate of Duquesne University and the Pennsylvania College of Optometry.

JUNIOR Achievement's eight-month program of economic education got under way Oct. 25.

Since then six companies have been formed to give the 150 boys and girls between 15 and 19 the opportunity to learn all phases of business through the operations of their own enterprises.

To date, some companies have begun producing and selling their wares, others are still working out assembly line problems and a few have been delayed by inavailability of raw materials, Winstead said.

Most companies will rely on door-to-door sales, but a few are hoping to negotiate "wholesale deals."

Among the products to be manufactured will be plastic wall plaques, Christmas wreaths, candles and ironing boards.

Each Junior Achievement company is counseled by a local enterprise, which provides at least three advisers for guidance on business, sales and production.

THE COMPANIES to date include:

Japco, plastic wall plaque, counseled by the J. C. Penney Co. and the First National Bank.

Webco, counseled by the Potters Bank and Trust Co.

WSCO, counseled by radio station WOHI.

JACS, counseled by the Midland Division of the Crucible Steel Co.

Two more companies, to be formed next week, will be counseled by Patterson Industries and the First National Bank.

—:—

TYPICAL of the organizations activated is Japco.

Adult advisers to the junior firm explained to the teen-agers the manner in which they would operate during the coming year.

They presented a charter application explaining the necessity for a business to be properly chartered and called for suggestions on a product to be manufactured, made some suggestions themselves and the teen-agers, after weighing the advantages, decided to manufacture a plastic wall plaque. The name then was decided.

The advisers then explained the necessity of capital to finance the venture. It was decided that this capital should be raised through the sale of stock at $1 per share. The teen-agers prepared a prospectus for use in selling their stock, voted an initial capitalization of $150 and practiced with one another the sales talk they would use in merchandising their securities.

The Junior Achievement headquarters is at 516 Market St.

Jail Term Set On 2 Charges

A man charged with shoplifting at Loblaws supermarket on Bradshaw Ave. was ordered to the County Jail at Lisbon for 60 days this morning after he pleaded guilty to one charge and was found guilty by Municipal Judge Samuel Chertoff on another.

Albert E. Shasteen, of Old Routes 30 and 7, was charged Wednesday by Lt. Paul A Burson Jr., with shoplifting and resisting arrest after allegedly taking two cartons of cigarettes from the market and then fleeing from Burson -- a stockboy at the store — when Burson attempted to apprehend him about 4:17 p.m.

The cigarettes were valued at $5.54, Burson said.

He said he chased Shasteen down Walnut St. and then apprehended him in the A & P parking lot.

Shasteen pleaded guilty to the shoplifting charge, but entered a not guilty plea in the resisting charge.

Chertoff, after questioning both men, found Shasteen guilty and sentenced him to 30 days on each charge. The terms will run consecutively.

After Shasteen was apprehended he was taken to City Hospital where he was treated for an abrasion of the back. He was X-rayed for a pain in his left wrist and then released.

Burson said he had to tackle Shasteen at the parking lot.

Tax Increase, Aged Benefits Bill Advances

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to increase Social Security benefits and taxes by a minimum of 15 per cent has passed the Senate Finance Committee in nearly the form called for by President Johnson.

The administration bill entails a much higher percentage increase in the lowest brackets—the minimum monthly payment would be raised from $44 to $70—then the House version passed in August.

The House bill included a 12½ per cent across-the-board increase with a $50 minimum. Any difference between the two final versions will have to be settled in a compromise by a House-Senate conference.

As they now stand the two versions also differ in the amount of increase in the payroll tax—matched by the employer—and the wage base against which the tax is levied.

The Senate panel voted to raise the individual tax to 4.8 per cent next year compared to 4.4 per cent now. The House voted to begin the higher rate in 1969. The House also voted to raise the wage base to $7,600 in 1968, compared to $6,600 this year.

Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., of the Senate panel, said it probably will settle on a $7,800 base next year as proposed by the administration.

Such a base would mean a maximum 1968 levy of $374.40. The highest levy this year is $290.40.

School Levy Vote Set For Lisbon Area

LISBON — Lisbon exempted village school district residents will vote Tuesday on the renewal of a 16-mill operating levy.

It brings in $192,000 of the $295,200 derived annually from school district taxes. There is another voted operating levy of 4 mills and a 4.6-mill (unvoted) levy inside the 10-mill limitation.

Supt. Joe W. Driscoll said the 16-mill levy will run out in 1968 and the renewal would be for five years. He called renewal "imperative because Senate Bill 350 requires that a school district have at least 17.5 mills voted for operations by Nov. 30, 1968, to continue to receive state monies."

Failure of the renewal Tuesday would mean the added expense of submitting it again next year, Driscoll said, and failure then would mean the district would lose $400,000 received annually in state foundation program funds.

Humphrey Takes Tour In Malaysia

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey took an architectural tour in the hot Malaysian sun today, looking at mosques and monuments and a Parliament tower he liked so much that he said: "I hope my government officers see that because they believe in building squares."

Humphrey, here for three days on a swing through Southeast Asia, guided his tour off its itinerary to go inside the modern, 18-story tower. He sat down in the Parliament speaker's chair, praised the acoustics, and wished they could be as good in some Washington buildings.

Asked how the chair compared with the one he uses when presiding over the U.S. Senate, Humphrey laughed: "Mine is more wobbly in more ways than one."

The vice president's arrival in the Malaysian capital from Vietnam Tuesday night touched off scattered anti - American demonstrations, but none were reported today.

Humphrey later took his shoes off to visit the national mosque and exchange gifts with Malaysia's king, Yang di-Pertuan Abang.

Meanwhile in Indonesia, which Humphrey visits next, the official news agency Antara said that U.S. "determination to expand and intensify the Vietnam war has caused it to lose sympathy from some of its loyal friends." The agency said Humphrey can see for himself when he comes to Indonesia that it "does not need any big foreign power to help it crush Communists in the country."

Pranksters Tied To Blaze Which Levels Building

Halloween pranksters have been blamed for a fire which swept a small building at a summer home near West Point Tuesday night.

The arson report was submitted by Deputy Sheriff Kent Garvey and Fire Chief Ed Bergman of West Point following an inspection of the site Wednesday afternoon.

They discovered that a propane gas tank which firemen found jetting flame halfway across the shed from an outside wall had been removed from the wall of the summer home near by.

A toppled outhouse also attested to Halloween vandalism.

Garvey checked the tax map records at the Courthouse and found that Herman Gussenhofen of Smiths Ferry owns the 19-acre tract. It is behind the Buckeye Coal tipple on Route 30, about a mile northwest of the Route 45 junction.

The fire consumed the 14-by-16-foot building and furniture stored inside.

Sixteen clear days were interspersed with 11 cloudy and four partly cloudy days during October, Copeland concluded.

Crucible

nal charge that Crucible was being turned over to the control of California industrialist Norton Simon, contrary to shareholder interest.

The big battle had begun in early 1966 when Crucible management, spotting a flurry of stock buys by the Rubin group, invited Simon — a key figure in California's Hunt Foods and Industries — to buy heavily into the firm as a counterweight in the expected proxy fight.

BY YESTERDAY'S settlement, Rubin and his group accepted the presence of Simon as a director and an influence in Crucible.

The dissidents' suit had prevented the firm from holding its normal April meetings in 1966 and this year.

The powerlessness to meet began to pinch seriously after Lobb took over with plans to make several acquisitions requiring new issues of stock and therefore shareholder approval. That vote can now be taken Dec. 14.

Among factors leading to peace, the two sides said, was the dissidents' conclusion that no merger of profitable Crucible and money - losing Wheeling Steel Corp. is contemplated. Simon had been dominant influence in Wheeling before last April.

Probe Widens In Children's Poison Deaths

ARCADIA, Fla. (AP) — The investigation into the poisoning of seven children broadened today as authorities held an inquest in Arcadia and studied records in Jacksonville to determine how 12 of a fruit picker's 15 children died.

Sheriff Frank Cline, who jailed the children's father — 32-year-old James Richardson — on a child neglect charge Tuesday night, said Richardson had told him five of his other children by a former marriage had died in Jacksonville prior to the Arcadia deaths.

Seven of Richardson's children, ranging in age from 2 to 8, died last week after eating pork and beans that Cline said had been laced with parathion, a deadly poison sometimes used as an agricultural pesticide.

Cline and County Judge Gordon Hays said Wednesday they had enough evidence "to file murder charges against Richardson" but agreed to convene a coroner's jury at the request of State Atty. Frank Schaub.

At a news conference, Cline said Richardson was "motivated by a remuneration for life insurance." Richardson took out $1,000 double indemnity life insurance policies the night before the children were stricken, Cline said.

Cline said he did not know how the Richardson children died in Jacksonville, where Richardson lived until 1961, but had information indicating they died mysteriously. Cline said that, by Richardson's "own account, he is the father of at least 15 children, and 12 of these are now dead."

Richardson and his third wife, Annie Mae, 29, were arrested in Arcadia after they submitted to lie detector tests Tuesday.

Faster Code Sending Developed By Firm

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Sylvania Electric Products Inc. has developed for the Air Force an electronic device which reduces substantially the time required to send coded digital information between satellite communications ground stations.

Leonard Gough, director of engineering, said that in a digital system, data is represented by a series of electrically tuned pulses, an example of which is Morse Code.

The new device reduces by a factor of 1,000 the time required by present correlators to examine a series of coded bits of information. The new device identifies simultaneously up to 500 such code bits by converting them to light waves and displaying them as a group.

Hints from Heloise

—By Heloise Cruse—

DEAR FOLKS: I just discovered something that my husband said is a terrific idea.

So here 'tis:

We've been saving cardboard rolls from toilet tissue, foil, wax paper etc. and knew we would find good uses for them, and we did.

One of the best things we've found is to use them to start a fire in a fireplace or a barbecue grill. They are great when place under logs or briquettes.

You can roll up wax paper or newspaper and stick it inside the cardboard roll (and don't forget that newspaper must have a small air hole in the middle of it). Man, does it start a fire!

Just place them between the logs — which will allow the oxygen to get through so the flames will start — and away it goes! The wax paper ignites quickly and the center of the tube allows good ventilation.

So, gals, never throw away those tubes from rolls of anything you buy. They have many uses.

HELOISE.

P.S. We have learned that since testing this idea, it is well also to save all cardboard boxes or containers that are coated with wax. Just tear open the bottom of the boxes, roll them up, wring tightly (that means twist), and use for your fire starters, too.

You should put them at the bottom of the fire if you're starting big logs, or between the logs if you're piling on lots of small logs.

It's the most fantabulous thing you've ever seen in your entire life.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I made a lightweight cover for my heating pad and sewed a strip of tape across each end. The strips extend out about six inches.

Now, if I need heat on an arm or leg, I can just tie it on and it will stay in place without holding.

A READER.

DEAR HELOISE: Those clear plastic trays that supermarkets use to package meats are so handy around the house.

I use a large one under the electric can-opener to catch drips, and a small one under the vinegar and oil bottles. I also use them under bottles and cans in the cupboard where I keep my cleaning supplies.'

I think they're great.

FEDORA F. MILES.

DEAR HELOISE: When I make chiffon or angel food cakes, or anything where the egg whites have to be folded into the batter last, I remove the beaters from the mixer and leave the bowl on the turn-table.

Then I pour the egg whites over the batter, gently folding them in as I pour.

DEAR HELOISE: The only thing good about working real hard and fast to clean the house is that it feels so good when you have finished and can rest. . .

MOTHER.

DEAR HELOISE: Recently I ripped up one of my daughter's old nylon net petticoats to use as a sweater drier.

I washed and pressed the pieces, and sewer two together just large enough for a sweater to fit on nicely. I also sewed a strip for a tie to each corner.

I had planned to fasten this to a frame. So far though I have just tied it real taut between my clotheslines. It works so well like that that I'm not going to bother with the frame. I like it very much because my sweaters dry so fast with the air circulating up through the net.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruso —

DEAR FOLKS: I just discovered something that my husband said is a terrific idea.

So here 'tis:

We've been saving cardboard rolls from toilet tissue, foil, wax paper etc. and knew we would find good uses for them, and we did.

One of the best things we've found is to use them to start a fire in a fireplace or a barbecue grill. They are great when place under logs or briquettes.

You can roll up wax paper or newspaper and stick it inside the cardboard roll (and don't forget that newspaper must have a small air hole in the middle of it). Man, does it start a fire!

Just place them between the logs — which will allow the oxygen to get through so the flames will start — and away it goes! The wax paper ignites quickly and the center of the tube allows good ventilation.

So, gals, never throw away those tubes from rolls of anything you buy. They have many uses.

HELOISE.

P.S. We have learned that since testing this idea, it is well also to save all cardboard boxes or containers that are coated with wax. Just tear open the bottom of the boxes, roll them up, wring tightly (that means twist), and use for your fire starters, too.

You should put them at the bottom of the fire if you're starting big logs, or between the logs if you're piling on lots of small logs.

It's the most fantabulous thing you've ever seen in your entire life.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I made a lightweight cover for my heating pad and sewed a strip of tape across each end. The strips extend out about six inches.

Now, if I need heat on an arm or leg, I can just tie it on and it will stay in place without holding.

A READER.

DEAR HELOISE: Those clear plastic trays that supermarkets use to package meats are so handy around the house.

I use a large one under the electric can-opener to catch drips, and a small one under the vinegar and oil bottles. I also use them under bottles and cans in the cupboard where I keep my cleaning supplies.'

I think they're great.

FEDORA F. MILES.

DEAR HELOISE: When I make chiffon or angel food cakes, or anything where the egg whites have to be folded into the batter last, I remove the beaters from the mixer and leave the bowl on the turn-table.

Then I pour the egg whites over the batter, gently folding them in as I pour.

As I stir with the spoon, the motion moves the bowl around on the turn-table. This makes for even distribution of the eggs and batter.

Sure makes the last step of mixing much easier, without the feeling of needing a third hand.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Recently you published some letters from women who complained because their husbands were too busy with bowling or golf or just watching sports on TV. You told them they should be thankful the guys weren't out chasing girls.

I live in the Southwest where rodeos and roping are popular. My husband is a roping nut. He'd rather rope than eat, and I mean that literally. He hasn't had a meal with his family in three months.

I'm an avid Landers' fan, however, and learned from you that it's stupid and useless to nag. So I kept my mouth shut and quietly found a hobby of my own.

My hobby is 5 feet 11 and he thinks I'm wonderful. I'm not lonely any more; in fact, I encourage my husband to go roping, and of course he's delighted.

I'm not trying to whitewash what I'm doing, Ann. I just hope you print this so some of those nuts out there in newspaperland will ask themselves, "Was it my wife who wrote that letter?" — TEXAS OR ARIZONA OR OKLAHOMA CONTENTMENT.

Dear Con: Of course I know in which of the three states you live, but I'm not tipping my mit. Let's let 'em guess — all you roping nuts in Texas, Arizona and Florida.

This Space Taken

Dear Ann: I have a complaint. It concerns these very small cars. I call them non-cars. Every time I think I have a parking space in a lot I discover that a small car is already parked there.

Someone should design a gadget that sticks up high so people can see the space is taken. Also, it would help bewildered drivers to locate their non-cars in a parking lot. Thank you. — IRKED.

Dear Irked: A great idea! I hope some smart cookie invents it. A pole-like affair, similar to a radio aerial, might be appropriate — something with a collapsible flag on the end. Don't bother about sending Irked and me the royalties, boys, just go ahead and produce it!

Too Intimate

Dear Ann: I'm the 21-year-old mother of a new baby. She was born nine months and eight days after we were married.

My husband was transferred to this city six months ago when I was a pregnant newlywed. I didn't know anyone here and the first people to call on me were the wives of the men my husband worked with.

This afternoon one of the wives came over with a gift for the baby. She hadn't been in the house 10 minutes when she asked, "Your baby was born very soon after your marriage. Was it planned? Tell me what happened."

I was embarrassed and shocked and started to stumble around, explaining that we wanted a family but not so soon and that I became pregnant on the honeymoon.

After she left I was furious with myself. She had a lot of nerve to ask such a question and I was stupid to have answered. But how does one get off the spot? What should I have said? — D.D.D.

Dear D.D.D.: When a person asks a question about something that's none of his business the correct procedure is as follows: Say: "Will you repeat that?" After the question is repeated say, "I didn't think I heard correctly. It seemed inconceivable that you would ask such an intimate question. I wouldn't dream of discussing such a thing with you. Now, what else shall we talk about?"

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Johnson Nominates Two For Postmaster

WASHINGTON (AP) —President Johnson sent to the Senate for confirmation Wednesday postmaster nominations for two Ohioans.

They were: Roger B. MacDonald, Defiance, and Louis R. Fagnano, New Middletown (Mahoning County).

Youth To Face Trial As Adult In Man's Death

CLEVELAND (AP)— Seventeen-year-old LaMar L. Johnson will have to stand trial as an adult for the death of an East Side store clerk who was beaten to death in a holdup Sept. 19.

Juvenile Court Judge Walter G. Whitlatch bound Johnson to the Cuyahoga County Grand Jury after finding him delinquent Wednesday.

The clerk, 64-year-old August Cacolici, died four hours after he was beaten about the head during the $1,400 holdup of Z and H. supermarket. Johnson denied any part in the holdup or slaying.

Johnson's appearance in juvenile court was his fifth since 1962. He had appeared previously for breaking and entering, school truancy and auto theft.

An alleged accomplice in the robbery and slaying, 19-year-old Ronald A. McKinley, testified that he saw Johnson "swinging a bottle over this man lying on the floor."

McKinley and two other men already are under grand jury indictment in the slaying.

'Filled' Milk New Peril To Dairy Firms

WASHINGTON (AP) — The economically troubled U.S. dairy industry—still feeling the effect of oleomargarine's inroads on its once lucrative butter market—now faces a threat to milk sales from an inexpensive new substitute.

Generally referred to as "filled" or "imitation" milk, the new product is being offered at prices several cents a quart below that of milk.

And like oleomargarine, the new milk uses vegetable fats in place of the more expensive dairy fats.

What to do about it is something the National Milk Producers Federation will debate at its convention in Miami Beach, Fla., Nov. 12-16.

Filled milk is already well established in Western states and making its way East. Its rising sales curve comes at a time when many dairymen claim inadequate milk prices are forcing them out of business.

Some dairy leaders want new laws barring sale of the product—just as efforts of this kind were used for years to limit sale of oleomargarine. Dairymen have lost the bulk of their butter market to oleomargarine despite such efforts.

The industry is in a sense contributing to the threat against it because the new product uses a low-cost dairy product—skim milk—along with vegetable fats. Skim milk provides the needed calcium, minerals and proteins.

There is talk of seeking government action to raise prices of the skim milk to a level which would take away the present price advantage the new product has over fluid milk.

Old Swedes Church, erected in Wilmington, Del., by Swedish Lutherans (now Protestant Episcopal) in 1698, is thought to be the oldest Protestant church in continuous use in the United States.

I live in the Southwest where rodeos and roping are popular. My husband is a roping nut. He'd rather rope than eat, and I mean that literally. He hasn't had a meal with his family in three months.

I'm an avid Landers' fan, however, and learned from you that it's stupid and useless to nag. So I kept my mouth shut and quietly found a hobby of my own.

My hobby is 5 feet 11 and he thinks I'm wonderful. I'm not lonely any more; in fact, I encourage my husband to go roping, and of course he's delighted.

I'm not trying to whitewash what I'm doing, Ann. I just hope you print this so some of those nuts out there in newspaperland will ask themselves, "Was it my wife who wrote that letter?" — TEXAS OR ARIZONA OR OKLAHOMA CONTENTMENT.

Dear Con: Of course I know in which of the three states you live, but I'm not tipping my mit. Let's let 'em guess — all you roping nuts in Texas, Arizona and Florida.

This Space Taken

Dear Ann: I have a complaint. It concerns these very small cars. I call them non-cars. Every time I think I have a parking space in a lot I discover that a small car is already parked there.

Someone should design a gadget that sticks up high so people can see the space is taken. Also, it would help bewildered drivers to locate their non-cars in a parking lot. Thank you. — IRKED.

Dear Irked: A great idea! I hope some smart cookie invents it. A pole-like affair, similar to a radio aerial, might be appropriate — something with a collapsible flag on the end. Don't bother about sending Irked and me the royalties, boys, just go ahead and produce it!

Too Intimate

Dear Ann: I'm the 21-year-old mother of a new baby. She was born nine months and eight days after we were married.

My husband was transferred to this city six months ago when I was a pregnant newlywed. I didn't know anyone here and the first people to call on me were the wives of the men my husband worked with.

This afternoon one of the wives came over with a gift for the baby. She hadn't been in the house 10 minutes when she asked, "Your baby was born very soon after your marriage. Was it planned? Tell me what happened."

I was embarrassed and shocked and started to stumble around, explaining that we wanted a family but not so soon and that I became pregnant on the honeymoon.

After she left I was furious with myself. She had a lot of nerve to ask such a question and I was stupid to have answered. But how does one get off the spot? What should I have said? — D.D.D.

Dear D.D.D.: When a person asks a question about something that's none of his business the correct procedure is as follows: Say: "Will you repeat that?" After the question is repeated say, "I didn't think I heard correctly. It seemed inconceivable that you would ask such an intimate question. I wouldn't dream of discussing such a thing with you. Now, what else shall we talk about?"

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Youth To Face Trial As Adult In Man's Death

CLEVELAND (AP)— Seventeen-year-old LaMar L. Johnson will have to stand trial as an adult for the death of an East Side store clerk who was beaten to death in a holdup Sept. 19.

Juvenile Court Judge Walter G. Whitlatch bound Johnson to the Cuyahoga County Grand Jury after finding him delinquent Wednesday.

The clerk, 64-year-old August Cacolici, died four hours after he was beaten about the head during the $1,400 holdup of Z and H. supermarket. Johnson denied any part in the holdup or slaying.

Johnson's appearance in juvenile court was his fifth since 1962. He had appeared previously for breaking and entering, school truancy and auto theft.

An alleged accomplice in the robbery and slaying, 19-year-old Ronald A. McKinley, testified that he saw Johnson "swinging a bottle over this man lying on the floor."

McKinley and two other men already are under grand jury indictment in the slaying.

'Filled' Milk New Peril To Dairy Firms

WASHINGTON (AP) — The economically troubled U.S. dairy industry—still feeling the effect of oleomargarine's inroads on its once lucrative butter market—now faces a threat to milk sales from an inexpensive new substitute.

Generally referred to as "filled" or "imitation" milk, the new product is being offered at prices several cents a quart below that of milk.

And like oleomargarine, the new milk uses vegetable fats in place of the more expensive dairy fats.

What to do about it is something the National Milk Producers Federation will debate at its convention in Miami Beach, Fla., Nov. 12-16.

Filled milk is already well established in Western states and making its way East. Its rising sales curve comes at a time when many dairymen claim inadequate milk prices are forcing them out of business.

Some dairy leaders want new laws barring sale of the product—just as efforts of this kind were used for years to limit sale of oleomargarine. Dairymen have lost the bulk of their butter market to oleomargarine despite such efforts.

The industry is in a sense contributing to the threat against it because the new product uses a low-cost dairy product—skim milk—along with vegetable fats. Skim milk provides the needed calcium, minerals and proteins.

There is talk of seeking government action to raise prices of the skim milk to a level which would take away the present price advantage the new product has over fluid milk.

Johnson Nominates Two For Postmaster

Water, Sewage Unit Convenes

Various Matters Studied As Chester Group Meets

Despite lack of a quorum during its meeting Wednesday night, members of the Chester Water and Sewage Board discussed various questions and sought a legal opinion concerning the use of funds originally earmarked for construction of the city's sewage system.

Only three members—Charles Kology, secretary, Roy Cashdollar and Frank Weaver—were present along with the chairman of the board, Mayor Burton G. Ward.

A BILL from Betler Brothers of Pittsburgh for construction work preliminary to the installation of the new emergency pumping facility at the community's present east end pumping site will be paid since no legal action is necessary after the city has entered into a contract with the firm, it was pointed out. The bill totals $7,680, but members learned the company may charge the city for a pump housing it cracked during the work.

Consulting one of the city's attorneys, Edwin Flowers, the board learned it probably could not be held responsible for the housing since it was cracked through negligence of the company.

Work on the pump installation is scheduled to begin today.

The dispute over the cracked housing resulted from a spokeman's statement his company would pay for it. But a company official the next day said it would be charged to the city.

THE BOARD received a letter from A. W. Leonard, engineer for the Factory Insurance Association whose field office is located in Pittsburgh, asking the board to cut five feet from an overflow pipe at the city's Lawrenceville reservoir.

Leonard, who represents the Taylor, Smith and Taylor Co., said the present length of 14 feet, 10 inches reduces the flow of water by 350 gallons per minute, and does not meet specifications set forth by the association for fire insurance for the pottery.

Cashdollar declared the pottery should support the cost of the operation, since the city paid to have the pipe erected.

Members sought an opinion on whether the board can use $23,000 for construction of certain items incidental to the sewage system and for development of a new well in the vicinity of the vacated 1st St. pumping station.

Cashdollar, who asked for the opinion, said the money is the balance of the original construction fund for the sewage system which has been invested, providing the capital.

Flowers, of Jordan and Flowers, the city's legal advisers, said the money probably can be used if the board obtains authorization from the engineering firm of Cerrone and Vaughn of Wheeling, which designed the system.

THE MONEY would be used to rebuild the 1st St. pumping station and drill a new well there, correct a sewer problem on Columbia Dr., extend the final drain pipe from the sewage plant to the river in order to alleviate odor and for improvements at the sewage plant.

Members will seek the approval of the engineers as soon as possible so work on the projects can begin.

The revitalization of the 1st St. pumping station then would provide the city with a second source of water in case of emergency, for while the community soon will have an emergency pump in operation it will be using the same water supply as the main pump.

Portugal Law Forbids 'Collective Camping'

LISBON (AP) — Portugal is attempting to dissuade campers from setting up temporary housekeeping in areas not officially designated camping areas.

A new law forbids "collective camping" anywhere outside camping or tourist parks for more than three days. Collective camping is defined as more than three tents, campers' trucks or trailers.

The rolling, wooded hills of Portugal are a great holiday attraction for foreign tourists, many of them campers. Camping is also popular with many Portuguese working men on vacation with their families.

The country has a large number of officially designated sites, but campers often complain these are too crowded.

Bids Nearing For Airport

LISBON — The Columbiana County Airport Authority is ready to advertise for construction bids as soon as the Federal Aviation Agency approves plans and specifications for the proposed airport at Swaney Field in Madison Township.

Plans and specifications have been approved by the state, officers said.

They were revised to meet federal requirements for a runway base of 12½ inches instead of 10½ and were forwarded to the FAA office in Cleveland two weeks ago.

Officers will be elected at the authority's next meeting Nov. 28.

The authority has been assured of a $222,000 federal grant and a $100,000 state grant toward construction of the airport. How much more will be needed from local sources — private or public — will not be known until bids are received. Some members estimate the county may have to put up $60,000 to $80,000.

Water, Sewage Unit Convenes

Various Matters Studied As Chester Group Meets

Despite lack of a quorum during its meeting Wednesday night, members of the Chester Water and Sewage Board discussed various questions and sought a legal opinion concerning the use of funds originally earmarked for construction of the city's sewage system.

Only three members—Charles Kology, secretary, Roy Cashdollar and Frank Weaver—were present along with the chairman of the board, Mayor Burton G. Ward.

A BILL from Betler Brothers of Pittsburgh for construction work preliminary to the installation of the new emergency pumping facility at the community's present east end pumping site will be paid since no legal action is necessary after the city has entered into a contract with the firm, it was pointed out. The bill totals $7,680, but members learned the company may charge the city for a pump housing it cracked during the work.

Consulting one of the city's attorneys, Edwin Flowers, the board learned it probably could not be held responsible for the housing since it was cracked through negligence of the company.

Work on the pump installation is scheduled to begin today.

The dispute over the cracked housing resulted from a spokeman's statement his company would pay for it. But a company official the next day said it would be charged to the city.

THE BOARD received a letter from A. W. Leonard, engineer for the Factory Insurance Association whose field office is located in Pittsburgh, asking the board to cut five feet from an overflow pipe at the city's Lawrenceville reservoir.

Leonard, who represents the Taylor, Smith and Taylor Co., said the present length of 14 feet, 10 inches reduces the flow of water by 350 gallons per minute, and does not meet specifications set forth by the association for fire insurance for the pottery.

Cashdollar declared the pottery should support the cost of the operation, since the city paid to have the pipe erected.

Members sought an opinion on whether the board can use $23,000 for construction of certain items incidental to the sewage system and for development of a new well in the vicinity of the vacated 1st St. pumping station.

Cashdollar, who asked for the opinion, said the money is the balance of the original construction fund for the sewage system which has been invested, providing the capital.

Flowers, of Jordan and Flowers, the city's legal advisers, said the money probably can be used if the board obtains authorization from the engineering firm of Cerrone and Vaughn of Wheeling, which designed the system.

THE MONEY would be used to rebuild the 1st St. pumping station and drill a new well there, correct a sewer problem on Columbia Dr., extend the final drain pipe from the sewage plant to the river in order to alleviate odor and for improvements at the sewage plant.

Members will seek the approval of the engineers as soon as possible so work on the projects can begin.

The revitalization of the 1st St. pumping station then would provide the city with a second source of water in case of emergency, for while the community soon will have an emergency pump in operation it will be using the same water supply as the main pump.

Brown's Conduct Casts Shadow Over Commons

LONDON (AP) — Members of Britain's House of Commons assembled for a foreign policy debate today that was overshadowed in advance by the uproar over Foreign Secretary George Brown's latest outburst.

The Commons debate was to range over world affairs, and there was no advance indication that Brown's conduct would be mentioned. But uppermost in the minds of most members was whether the hard - drinking straight-talking foreign secretary could survive the outcry following his impromptu charge that Britain's biggest publisher is helping the Soviet Union.

One highly placed source said Brown still has Prime Minister Harold Wilson's full backing.

Brown's blast at a banquet Tuesday night—another in a series of social blunders—was directed at his host Lord Thomson of Fleet.

Apparently referring to a series of articles in Thomson's Sunday Times about Harold Philby, the former foreign office man who spied for the Russians for 30 years, Brown put aside his prepared speech and told Thomson: "It is about time we stopped giving the Russians half a start on what we are doing. It is about time you shut up."

Aides of Brown said he was incensed because Thomson, in introducing him, referred to his drinking. Others present said Brown came to the banquet from a cocktail party apparently spoiling for an argument.

He testified he received nothing. Mrs. Speaker left over $500,000.

Powerful Cleveland St. Joseph's, 6-1-1, Here Tomorrow

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

The number 13 is bound to be unlucky for someone Friday night when East Liverpool and Cleveland St. Joseph's clash at Patterson Field.

The Potters and the Vikings, along with Dayton Belmont, are tied for 13th in the UPI poll of Ohio high school football teams. In the AP poll, St. Joseph's has quite a margin over East Liverpool, ranking 19th to 34th. St. Joseph's probably would be ranked higher if its 23-21 victory over Toledo St. Francis, a Top 10 team, had occurred Friday night instead of Saturday night.

Warren Western Reserve, ranked 17th by AP and 19th by UPI, is clamoring for higher ranking after knocking off Kent Roosevelt Saturday night 14-0 Kent had won 18 games in a row prior to the loss, and apparently was over confident for the game. Western Reserve, on the other hand, had jerseys on that said "Beat Kent," and really wanted to prove it had arrived as a football power.

Alliance, the final foe for the Potters, is only 4-3-1 on the year, but with last week's win over Canton McKinley is ranked 44th by AP and 39th by UPI.

The ultimate in propaganda comes from Dover High School, where a Miss Paddy Smith, an exchange sutdent from South Africa, is sports editor of the school newspaper. Pleading ignorance of the methods of American sportswriters, she can't understand why two teams that have lost a game are ranked ahead of Dover in the AP poll (actually there is only one team, Massillon). Well, y'see Paddy, there's this matter of strength of opponents.

JIM PARKER of East Palestine, a freshman fullback at Ashland, gained 60 yards in eight carries as the Eagles blitzed Capital 49-6 last week. Parker has 86 yards in 14 carries for the year.

MARTY SCHOTTENHEIMER, formerly of Pitt, will start at linebacker for the Buffalo Bills next week in place of Harry Jacobs who broke his collarbone. Jacobs' injury brings to an end the streak of over 80 games in which Jacobs, Mike Stratton and John Tracey had started together as linebackers for the Bills.

SIMMY HILL, former all-state basketball player at Midland, is now enrolled at West Texas State, in Canyon, Texas. This school should not be confused with Texas Western, now UT, El Paso, that won the national basketball championship in 1966.

WEIRTON'S soccer team in the Keystone League was finally slowed Sunday, being held to a 2-2 tie by Dunlevy. Weirton is still a game ahead of second-place Harmarville.

A GIRL, Debbie Capen of Charleston, is on the West Virginia U. rifle team. Where the height and weight of team members are listed on the roster there is just an asterisk after Debbie's name, with the explanation "That's none of your business."

Pipers Win In Overtime; Williams, Liebowitz Star

By The Associated Press

The Indiana Pacers' artistic success continues, matched only by its financial one.

More than 7,000 customers turned out to see the Pacers take a 123-113 American Basketball Association victory from New Jersey Wednesday night. That raises the total spectators for three home games to more than 23,000.

Fred Lewis led the Indiana scoring with 28 points while Tony Jackson had 32 for the Americans. The Pacers now are 7-1 in league play.

In the only other ABA game, Pittsburgh came from behind for a 112-103 overtime road victory over Denver. Barry Liebowitz, with 19 points, and Charley Williams, with 16, sparked the Pipers' late rally to force the extra period with the score tied at 100-100.

Charley Vaughn finished high for the Pipers with 25 points. Wayne Hightower topped Denver with 20.

In the National Basketball Association, St. Louis beat Cincinnati 101-96, San Francisco downed Detroit 137-132, Philadelphia trounced Baltimore 136-111, New York whipped Los Angeles 129-113 and San Diego defeated Seattle 139-125.

Penguins Top North Stars

John Bower, 42, Blanks Montreal Canadiens 5-0

By The Associated Press

His hair is growing thinner, his helmstitched face looks more weatherbeaten, but like Ol' Man River, Johnny Bower just keeps rolling along.

Bower, one week away from his 43rd birthday, held off Montreal's high-speed Canadiens Wednesday night as Toronto blanked the Habs 5-0 in a National Hockey League game.

The veteran goalie kicked out 40 shots including 17 in the first period and registered his 32nd career shutout. Five different players scored for Toronto with three goals inside of five minutes midway through the second period snapping a scoreless tie.

In other NHL action Wednesday, expansionist St. Louis rocked Boston 5-1, Pittsburgh dropped Minnesota 4-1 and New York blanked California 2-0.

Ex-Bruin Ron Stewart led St. Louis past Boston with a pair of goals in the first period as the Blues scored their first victory over an established NHL team.

Glenn Hall kicked out 30 shots for St. Louis but lost his shutout in the final 2½ minutes when Ross Lonsberry beat him on a 300-footer.

Andy Bathgate scored his eighth goal of the year for Pittsburgh as the Penguins took over second place in the West Division by beating Minnesota.

The Rangers moved into sole possession of first place in the East Division, two points ahead of idle Detroit, in extending their unbeaten streak to eight at the expense of California.

Orland Kurtenbach and Rod Gilbert produced the New York goals in the third period while goalie Ed Giacomin turned in his first shutout of the season, handling 16 shots flawlessly.

Reserves Close Year Saturday

The East Liverpool High reserve football team will close out its season Saturday night at 7:30 at Patterson Field against the Youngstown Ursuline reserves.

This game will be staged like a varsity game except there will be no admission charged. There will be fireworks, regulation time and officials and the Vi-Lar Cadettes will perform. The Potter reserves are 6-1.

McVay To Stay At Quarterback

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

For the first time this season the East Liverpool Potters enter a game in the role of underdog, or with at least no better than even odds.

Cleveland St. Joseph's, which invades Patterson Field tomorrow night at 7:45, is the second-ranked team in Cleveland and the 13th best in the state according to UPI and 19th best according to AP. The Potters are 13th by UPI and 34th by AP. St. Joseph's, a perennial power which has averaged one loss a year for the last six seasons, is 6-1-1 this year, while the home club is 6-1. It was felt when the schedule was made up that the Vikings would be the toughest team on it, and nothing has happened to dispel this notion.

The school has an enrollment of over 2,000 and it is all boys. It can pick and choose from among the boys enrolled in the fine CYO football program in Cleveland, offering scholarships.

The most impressive win for Bill Gutbrod's club was a 23-21 triumph Saturday night over Toledo St. Francis, which had won 21 straight and was ranked fifth or eighth in the state, depending on which poll you read. The lone loss for St. Joe's this season was to a Crown Conference opponent, Chanel, by 18-7, and was attributable to overconfidence. Chanel completed a quarterback practically lying on the ground and then recovered a fumble on the ensuing kickoff, pushed over another score and led 12-0 before St. Joseph could get organized.

The tie for the Vikings was 14-14 with powerful Akron Hoban, which at that time had a 14-game non - losing streak. St. Joseph's has beaten Euclid 40-7, Cathedral Latin 14-0, Columbus DeSalles 12-0, Akron St. Vincent 27-6 and Padua 60-0 in addition to the St. Francis victory. Cathedral Latin is currently ranked sixth in the Cleveland area.

The Vikings run more than they pass, according to Potter coach Bob McNea, but they have a fine passer in Terry Campoleti. The halfbacks are Scott Savickas and George Herrick and the fullback is Roy Burton. The three running backs are "smaller than Musuraca but a little faster" according to McNea. He rates the whole team as small but quick. Outstanding lineman is tackle Dan Kobie.

The Vikings use an unbalanced line with a wing or full - house T. McNea says a muddy field would hurt the home club more than St. Joseph's, because the Potters pass more and use more complicated formations.

Mike McVay will continue to play quarterback for the Potters, with Earl Diddle at flanker. East Liverpool is in good shape physically for the clash.

Crestview, 5-3 win three wins in a row, kicks off the weekend tonight by hosting hapless Greenford, 0-8. The visitors have lost to Jackson - Milton, Mineral Ridge, North Lima, McDonald, Southern Local, Lowellville, Western Reserve and Southington. Crestview lost to Mineral Ridge, North Lima and McDonald, while beating Southington, Lowellville, Southern Local, United and Western Reserve. The game ends the season for Crestview.

Quarterback A? For Steelers, Browns

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Browns still don't know who Sunday's quarterback will be, but they aren't the only ones.

Bill Austin, coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers, also is pondering which passer to use in the Browns-Steelers game at Pittsburgh.

Veteran quarterback Bill Nelsen of the Steelers was injured Sept. 24, and rookie Kent Nix performed so well on occasion that it looked as though he might have won the job away from Nelsen.

But last Sunday the Steelers bogged down against the New Orleans Saints, and it was Nelson recovered from his knee injury — who went in in the final period and brought them from behind to win.

Nelsen hit on five of six passes in scoring drives that covered 81 and 70 yards.

The way Nelsen took over was described by running back Don Shy, who scored the winning touchdown on a 33-yard run.

"Man, he was cool, cool, cool in the huddle," said Shy. "We were losing by 10 points but he didn't get excited.

"Bill ran the team like he knew all along we were going to win."

Nelsen said his only concern was that Austin wouldn't call on him — or not send him in soon enough.

As for next Sunday, Austin isn't saying anything yet. "The job still is up for grabs," he remarked Wednesday night. "I don't know that we wouldn't have won if we stayed with Nix.

"'Still, it's good to win no matter how you do it."

Grayson Intercepts 3, AFL Defensive Player

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Brash Dave Grayson didn't mind moving over to make room in Oakland's defensive backfield for flashy Willie Brown. But when Brown got hurt, Grayson showed he hadn't forgotten how to do his old job.

Grayson intercepted three passes and shared in the bulk of his 11 tackles after moving from free safety to cornerback at halftime in Oakland's 51-10 victory over San Diego last week. He was named the American Football League's Defensive Player of the Week today by The Associated Press.

A regular cornerback for the Raiders the last two seasons, Grayson switched to free safety this year as Brown moved into his old spot. And he was enjoying the switch.

"When I get more nerve," he said, "I'll go for more passes. There's more action at free safety. You get a chance to tackle more. Stick your head in there."

Instead of his head, Grayson stuck his hands in there against San Diego quarterback John Hadl. The three interceptions in one half matched his total number of steals in each of the last two seasons.

Ironically, Grayson felt the switch to free safety would give him a better shot at interceptions but it was at Brown's cornerback slot that he caught Hadl's passes.

"I love playing free safety," said Grayson. "You're in on every play. At cornerback, you're isolated and sometimes if a play is a run, your coverage man moves three steps off the line and that's it.

"At free safety, you're not always responsible for one man and you have a better opportunity to intercept."

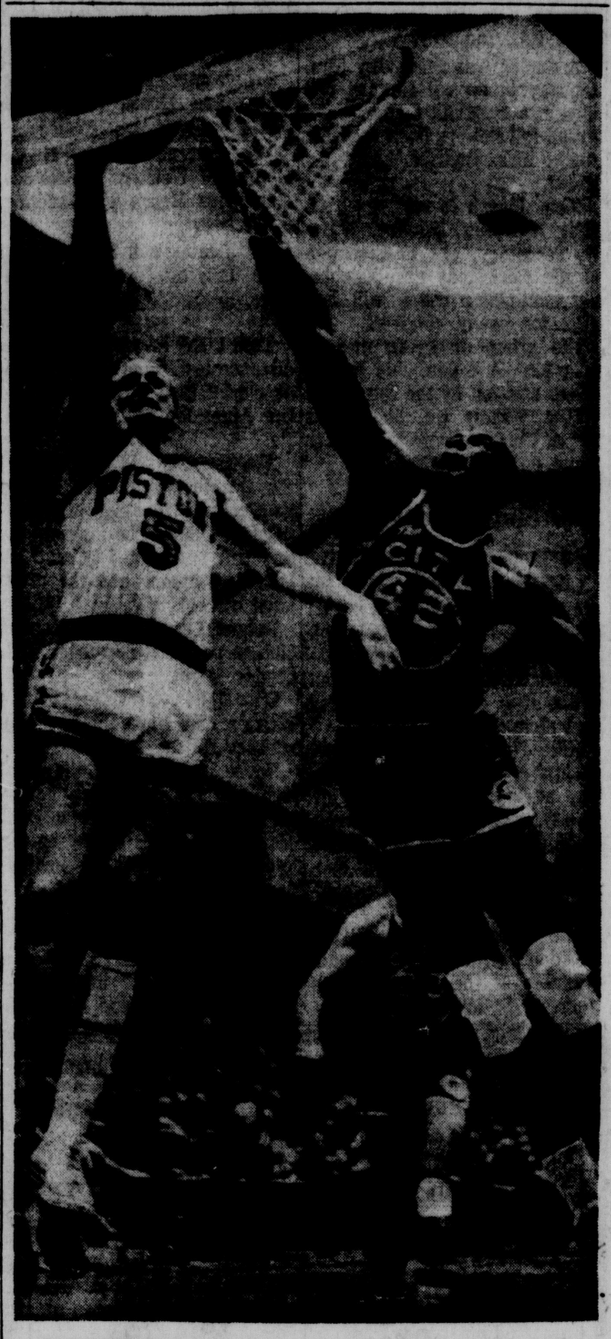

WVU AD Recovering

MORGANTOWN (AP) — Robert N. (Red) Brown, athletic director at West Virginia University, is expected to recover from spinal surgery sufficiently by spring to be on the tennis courts, according to WVU Medical Center neurosurgeon Robert Nugent.

Dr. Nugent said Brown should be "out of bed today, out of the hospital in six or seven days, on the dance floor in three weeks and on the tennis courts by early spring."

Brown missed his first WVU football game in 15 years last Saturday because of a ruptured spinal disc.

Robertson-less Royals Lose To St. Louis Hawks

By The Associated Press

Ask not what the Cincinnati Royals can do without Oscar Robertson. Ask instead when Oscar's coming back.

Hurt in a game over the weekend, the Big O missed Cincinnati's contest with St. Louis Wednesday night. The Hawks took advantage of his absence to score their 10th victory of the season against just one defeat 101-96.

Robertson has a thigh injury and may be ready for action again this weekend. The Royals' shooting suffered mightily with out him. Leading 55-48 at half time, they took nine minutes and 10 seconds to get their first field goal in the third quarter.

In all, the Royals got just 12 points in the third period, hitting on only that one shot from the floor out of 23 tries.

In other NBA action Wednesday night, San Francisco beat Detroit 137-132, Philadelphia downed Baltimore 136-111, New York upended Los Angeles 129-113 and San Diego topped Seattle 139-125.

In the American Basketball Association, Indiana beat New Jersey 123-113 and Pittsburgh outlasted Denver 112-103 in overtime.

Lennie Wilkens and Joe Caldwell led the St. Louis scorers with 24 points while Jerry Lucas accounted for one-third of the Cincinnati scoring with 32 points.

The Warriors won their sixth game in a row, breaking the game open in the fourth quarter with eight straight points when the score was tied 106-106. Jim King of San Francisco and Dave Bing of the Pistons each had 32 points.

The 76ers threw in 20 straight points in a 4½-minute span in the second period en route to their sixth victory against one defeat. Hal Greer had 27 points for Philadelphia while Wilt Chamberlain contributed 19 points, 22 rebounds and 13 assists.

Willis Reed hit a career high of 53 points—also tops by an individual in the league this season—in triggering New York's victory over Los Angeles, snapping a six-game Knick losing streak.

San Diego bolted to a 10-0 lead over Seattle at the outset and never was headed in the game involving expansion teams. John Block's 31 points sparked the Rockets, who broke a six-game losing skein. Al Tucker led the Sonics with 23.

Potters Start Hoop Drills

Basketball practice started for East Liverpool High yesterday with coach Clint McConnell greeting 56 candidates at the Memorial Auditorium.

This figure does not include football players, who won't begin practice until the football season is over. Among those working out yesterday were four veterans, letterman Mitchell Jones, 6-7, and reserves Rick Stephen, 6-2, Bill Montgomery, 6-1, and Larry Adkins, 6-0.

There has been another change in the Potter hoop schedule, with the Warren Harding game at Warren Jan. 5 and the Pittsburgh South High game here Dec. 16. This is just a reversal of those two games.

Big Red Hopes To Stay At Top

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Football fever has gripped the city of Steubenville as the Big Red prepare for an invasion by mighty Massillon and a Friday night game that could decide the state scholastic football championship.

Coach Abe Bryan's River City team will be battling a hex and a long-standing tradition when they try to catch a Tiger by the tail.

The unbeaten Big Red (8-0) could solify their No. 1 ranking in The Associated Press poll with a triumph over the once-beaten Tigers.

It won't be easy.

Massillon, 11 times state champions, has title aspirations of its own despite a tough 7-6 loss to No. 2 Upper Arlington two weeks ago.

COACH BOB Seaman's Tigers have the record book — and tradition—on their side.

Thirty times these two football powers have met and Massillon has won 26 of those meetings and tied one.

Steubenville started the series auspiciously enough back in 1930 with a 19-0 victory and followed that up with a 68-0 romp in 1931. But since that time, and except for a 7-7 tie in 1945, the Big Red have won only once—14-8 in 1962.

Bryan's club was sailing along on the path to its first championship last year when five-time loser Massillon derailed the Big Red, 12-0.

The clash is a promoter's dream—and a nightmare—since Harding Stadium seats only 11,000.

Both Steubenville and fourth-ranked Massillon are strong defensively but that's where the comparison ends. The Tigers use a controlled offense, preferring to stick to a ground game while the Big Red boasts a versatile attack.

That versatility was utilized perfectly weeks ago when Steubenville stormed back in the final moments on a strong passing game to nip Canton McKinley, then in the top spot.

Keith Burke, the Big Red's 6 - foot, 168 - pound swingman, could be the difference. Burke, who plays either quarterback or halfback, caught a deflected pass for the winning score in the 20-15 decision over Canton.

Last week, with Steubenville holding a shaky 25-19 lead over unbeaten Weirton, W. Va., Burke picked off a pass and zoomed 65 yards for a pressure-relieving score.

Scholastic Sidlights

Dave Keith of fifth - ranked Dover has scored 92 points and shows more than 1,000 yards total offense. Junior quarterback Rich Trustdorf has completed 47 of 73 passes for nine touchdowns and has 923 yards total offense.

Portsmouth Notre Dame, ranked No. 2 in Class A, racked up its 31st consecutive triumph by bombing New Boston, 66-0. It's the longest winning streak in Ohio.

Hamilton Taft, which last week beat Middletown 36-14 for the first time in history, takes on Hamilton Garfield Friday night in a major Butler County skirmish.

When Cleveland St. Joseph topped Toledo St. Francis 23-21 Saturday, it stopped Toledo's 21-game winning streak.

Circleville romped over Hillsboro 58-6 Friday, marking the sixth time in the last eight years the Pickaway County school has won or shared the South Central Ohio League crown.

Black River, which earlier snapped a 53-game losing streak with a 14-0 victory over Berlin Heights, has a 1-7 record but has lost four games by one touchdown, or less.

Fredericktown, rated No. 8 in Class A, battles Lexington Friday for the Johnny Appleseed Conference title. The Freddies are 7-0-1 and Lexington is 6-1-1.

Waynesburg Gaining On San Diego State

By The Associated Press

The unbeaten Fairmont, W. Va. State Falcons hold the key to Waynesburg's most immediate prospect of overtaking San Diego State, season-long leader in the weekly Associated Press small-college football poll.

An impressive victory by Waynesburg over Fairmont this Saturday will likely enable the Yellow Jackets to gain ground on or, perhaps, overhaul the Aztecs, who are not scheduled.

Waynesburg has streamrolled through seven opponents in an undefeated campaign. Fairmont has won six in a row. They have played one common opponent, West Virginia Wesleyan, and Fairmont rolled up a more impressive winning score. The Falcons beat W. Va. Wesleyan 48-0 on Oct. 7 and the Yellow Jackets beat the same team, 42-0, last Saturday.

San Diego State accumulated 19 points more than Waynesburg in the latest vote by a national panel of 17 sports writers and broadcasters.

The Aztecs had seven votes for first-place and 152 points on a basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for second etc. Waynesburg was named the top team on five ballots and drew 133 points.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis:

1.	San Diego St. (7)	152
2.	Waynesburg (5)	133
3.	North Dakota St. (1)	116

Powerful Cleveland St. Joseph's, 6-1-1, Here Tomorrow

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE

The number 13 is bound to be unlucky for someone Friday night when East Liverpool and Cleveland St. Joseph's clash at Patterson Field.

The Potters and the Vikings, along with Dayton Belmont, are tied for 13th in the UPI poll of Ohio high school football teams. In the AP poll, St. Joseph's has quite a margin over East Liverpool, ranking 19th to 34th. St. Joseph's probably would be ranked higher if its 23-21 victory over Toledo St. Francis, a Top 10 team, had occurred Friday night instead of Saturday night.

Warren Western Reserve, ranked 17th by AP and 19th by UPI, is clamoring for higher ranking after knocking off Kent Roosevelt Saturday night 14-0 Kent had won 18 games in a row prior to the loss, and apparently was over confident for the game. Western Reserve, on the other hand, had jerseys on that said "Beat Kent," and really wanted to prove it had arrived as a football power.

Alliance, the final foe for the Potters, is only 4-3-1 on the year, but with last week's win over Canton McKinley is ranked 44th by AP and 39th by UPI.

The ultimate in propaganda comes from Dover High School, where a Miss Paddy Smith, an exchange sutdent from South Africa, is sports editor of the school newspaper. Pleading ignorance of the methods of American sportswriters, she can't understand why two teams that have lost a game are ranked ahead of Dover in the AP poll (actually there is only one team, Massillon). Well, y'see Paddy, there's this matter of strength of opponents.

JIM PARKER of East Palestine, a freshman fullback at Ashland, gained 60 yards in eight carries as the Eagles blitzed Capital 49-6 last week. Parker has 86 yards in 14 carries for the year.

MARTY SCHOTTENHEIMER, formerly of Pitt, will start at linebacker for the Buffalo Bills next week in place of Harry Jacobs who broke his collarbone. Jacobs' injury brings to an end the streak of over 80 games in which Jacobs, Mike Stratton and John Tracey had started together as linebackers for the Bills.

SIMMY HILL, former all-state basketball player at Midland, is now enrolled at West Texas State, in Canyon, Texas. This school should not be confused with Texas Western, now UT, El Paso, that won the national basketball championship in 1966.

WEIRTON'S soccer team in the Keystone League was finally slowed Sunday, being held to a 2-2 tie by Dunlevy. Weirton is still a game ahead of second-place Harmarville.

A GIRL, Debbie Capen of Charleston, is on the West Virginia U. rifle team. Where the height and weight of team members are listed on the roster there is just an asterisk after Debbie's name, with the explanation "That's none of your business."

McVay To Stay At Quarterback

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

For the first time this season the East Liverpool Potters enter a game in the role of underdog, or with at least no better than even odds.

Cleveland St. Joseph's, which invades Patterson Field tomorrow night at 7:45, is the second-ranked team in Cleveland and the 13th best in the state according to UPI and 19th best according to AP. The Potters are 13th by UPI and 34th by AP. St. Joseph's, a perennial power which has averaged one loss a year for the last six seasons, is 6-1-1 this year, while the home club is 6-1. It was felt when the schedule was made up that the Vikings would be the toughest team on it, and nothing has happened to dispel this notion.

The school has an enrollment of over 2,000 and it is all boys. It can pick and choose from among the boys enrolled in the fine CYO football program in Cleveland, offering scholarships.

The most impressive win for Bill Gutbrod's club was a 23-21 triumph Saturday night over Toledo St. Francis, which had won 21 straight and was ranked fifth or eighth in the state, depending on which poll you read. The lone loss for St. Joe's this season was to a Crown Conference opponent, Chanel, by 18-7, and was attributable to overconfidence. Chanel completed a quarterback practically lying on the ground and then recovered a fumble on the ensuing kickoff, pushed over another score and led 12-0 before St. Joseph could get organized.

The tie for the Vikings was 14-14 with powerful Akron Hoban, which at that time had a 14-game non - losing streak. St. Joseph's has beaten Euclid 40-7, Cathedral Latin 14-0, Columbus DeSalles 12-0, Akron St. Vincent 27-6 and Padua 60-0 in addition to the St. Francis victory. Cathedral Latin is currently ranked sixth in the Cleveland area.

The Vikings run more than they pass, according to Potter coach Bob McNea, but they have a fine passer in Terry Campoleti. The halfbacks are Scott Savickas and George Herrick and the fullback is Roy Burton. The three running backs are "smaller than Musuraca but a little faster" according to McNea. He rates the whole team as small but quick. Outstanding lineman is tackle Dan Kobie.

The Vikings use an unbalanced line with a wing or full - house T. McNea says a muddy field would hurt the home club more than St. Joseph's, because the Potters pass more and use more complicated formations.

Mike McVay will continue to play quarterback for the Potters, with Earl Diddle at flanker. East Liverpool is in good shape physically for the clash.

Crestview, 5-3 win three wins in a row, kicks off the weekend tonight by hosting hapless Greenford, 0-8. The visitors have lost to Jackson - Milton, Mineral Ridge, North Lima, McDonald, Southern Local, Lowellville, Western Reserve and Southington. Crestview lost to Mineral Ridge, North Lima and McDonald, while beating Southington, Lowellville, Southern Local, United and Western Reserve. The game ends the season for Crestview.

Quarterback A? For Steelers, Browns

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Browns still don't know who Sunday's quarterback will be, but they aren't the only ones.

Bill Austin, coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers, also is pondering which passer to use in the Browns-Steelers game at Pittsburgh.

Veteran quarterback Bill Nelsen of the Steelers was injured Sept. 24, and rookie Kent Nix performed so well on occasion that it looked as though he might have won the job away from Nelsen.

But last Sunday the Steelers bogged down against the New Orleans Saints, and it was Nelson recovered from his knee injury — who went in in the final period and brought them from behind to win.

Nelsen hit on five of six passes in scoring drives that covered 81 and 70 yards.

The way Nelsen took over was described by running back Don Shy, who scored the winning touchdown on a 33-yard run.

"Man, he was cool, cool, cool in the huddle," said Shy. "We were losing by 10 points but he didn't get excited.

"Bill ran the team like he knew all along we were going to win."

Nelsen said his only concern was that Austin wouldn't call on him — or not send him in soon enough.

As for next Sunday, Austin isn't saying anything yet. "The job still is up for grabs," he remarked Wednesday night. "I don't know that we wouldn't have won if we stayed with Nix.

"'Still, it's good to win no matter how you do it."

Pipers Win In Overtime; Williams, Liebowitz Star

By The Associated Press

The Indiana Pacers' artistic success continues, matched only by its financial one.

More than 7,000 customers turned out to see the Pacers take a 123-113 American Basketball Association victory from New Jersey Wednesday night. That raises the total spectators for three home games to more than 23,000.

Fred Lewis led the Indiana scoring with 28 points while Tony Jackson had 32 for the Americans. The Pacers now are 7-1 in league play.

In the only other ABA game, Pittsburgh came from behind for a 112-103 overtime road victory over Denver. Barry Liebowitz, with 19 points, and Charley Williams, with 16, sparked the Pipers' late rally to force the extra period with the score tied at 100-100.

Charley Vaughn finished high for the Pipers with 25 points. Wayne Hightower topped Denver with 20.

Penguins Top North Stars

John Bower, 42, Blanks Montreal Canadiens 5-0

By The Associated Press

His hair is growing thinner, his hemstitched face looks more weatherbeaten, but like Ol' Man River, Johnny Bower just keeps rolling along.

Bower, one week away from his 43rd birthday, held off Montreal's high-speed Canadiens Wednesday night as Toronto blanked the Habs 5-0 in a National Hockey League game.

The veteran goalie kicked out 40 shots including 17 in the first period and registered his 32nd career shutout. Five different players scored for Toronto with three goals inside of five minutes midway through the second period snapping a scoreless tie.

In other NHL action Wednesday, expansionist St. Louis rocked Boston 5-1, Pittsburgh dropped Minnesota 4-1 and New York blanked California 2-0.

Ex-Bruin Ron Stewart led St. Louis past Boston with a pair of goals in the first period as the Blues scored their first victory over an established NHL team.

Glenn Hall kicked out 30 shots for St. Louis but lost his shutout in the final 2½ minutes when Ross Lonsberry beat him on a 300-footer.

Andy Bathgate scored his eighth goal of the year for Pittsburgh as the Penguins took over second place in the West Division by beating Minnesota.

The Rangers moved into sole possession of first place in the East Division, two points ahead of idle Detroit, in extending their unbeaten streak to eight at the expense of California.

Orland Kurtenbach and Rod Gilbert produced the New York goals in the third period while goalie Ed Giacomin turned in his first shutout of the season, handling 16 shots flawlessly.

Reserves Close Year Saturday

The East Liverpool High reserve football team will close out its season Saturday night at 7:30 at Patterson Field against the Youngstown Ursuline reserves.

This game will be staged like a varsity game except there will be no admission charged. There will be fireworks, regulation time and officials and the Vi-Lar Cadettes will perform. The Potter reserves are 6-1.

Grayson Intercepts 3, AFL Defensive Player

Brash Dave Grayson didn't mind moving over to make room in Oakland's defensive backfield for flashy Willie Brown. But when Brown got hurt, Grayson showed he hadn't forgotten how to do his old job.

Grayson intercepted three passes and shared in the bulk of his 11 tackles after moving from free safety to cornerback at halftime in Oakland's 51-10 victory over San Diego last week. He was named the American Football League's Defensive Player of the Week today by The Associated Press.

Colts Point For Packers, Hope To Snap Loss Skein

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — If the Baltimore Colts were looking past Washington last Sunday and building up a head of steam for Green Bay, they couldn't be blamed.

The Colts have lost five in a row to the Packers since 1964 when they dumped Vince Lombardi's men twice and won the title in the West.

Green Bay won 20-17 on two interceptions by Herb Adderley and a recovered fumble and rolled up a 42-27 margin on Paul Hornung's big five-touchdown day to win both regular season games in 1965.

When the two teams wound up the '65 season in a tie for the Western Conference title, quarterback Bart Starr was hurt on the first Green Bay scrimmage play but the Packers won it 13-10 in 13:39 of sudden death overtime on Don Chandler's second field goal.

There was a bitter controversy surrounding the first field goal that tied the score and Baltimore still maintains it was not good.

With that background of defeat, the Colts were sky high for their first meeting in 1966 only to lose 24-3 when Bob Jeter and Lee Roy Caffey turned intercepted passes against Johnny Unitas into first half touchdowns.

The last meeting of the two clubs came on a Saturday afternoon in mid-December last season. Once again it was Zeke Bratkowski doing the job after Starr was injured, and the Packers won 14-10. Willie Davis saved the day with a jolting tackle that forced Unitas to fumble on the Green Bay nine with a minute to play.

And next Sunday?

The Packers are coming off a tough game Monday night at St. Louis with Lionel Aldridge, defensive end, a questionable injury.

Baltimore is without one half of its pitch-and-catch battery because Raymond Berry is shelved indefinitely with a shoulder separation. But Jimmy Orr, out since the first game with a shoulder separation, and Ray Perkins, who has missed two games and most of a third because of a sore leg, both are expected to return to help out Willie Richardson, John Mackey and Alex Hawkins.

Joe Don Looney is reported back home in Texas after being waived out of the National Football League by Washington. Joe Don has been making the rounds from New York to Baltimore to Detroit to Washington and now back home ... The Redskins are expected to pick up Chuck Mercein, cut by the New York Giants.

WVU's Woodeshick Starring For Eagles

The secret to Tom Woodeshick's success, says Tom Woodeshick, is getting hit so it hurts.

"There's much more to conditioning than just running," says the 220-pound running back who has won a regular job with the Philadelphia Eagles after spinning in a revolving door as one of three alternating fullbacks for three years. "Running against resistance, now that's something else. There's five times as much strain. You hit and you hurt. It's the only way to gain strength. After all, football is a combative sport. If you aren't in combat, you can't be truly conditioned."

Woodeshick, a five - year pro from West Virginia U., has had plenty of combat this season since Coach Joe Kuharich went to a "big back" backfield (of Woody and Izzy Lang) after a pre-season injury to Timmy Brown. And he's taken advantage of it.

After seven games, he's one of the NFL rushing contenders with 416 yards in 92 carries, a 4.5 average. Versus Dallas last Sunday, Woodeshick gained 101 yards in 20 carries for his second 100-yard–plus day this season and his third in his last eight games, including the Eagles' final game of 1966. He scored the deciding touchdown in the 21-14 victory that pulled Philadelphia to within one game of the Cowboys in the Capitol Division race, carrying four straight times from the 23 for the score.

First he ran for six yards up the middle. Then he swept right end for 16 yards to the one, carrying a Dallas defender the last four yards. On his third successive carry, he hit into the Dallas line for no gain. On the next try, he drove through into the end zone with plenty to spare.

"I could do that now," Woodeshick says, "but a year ago, I might not. When I was playing in spots, I couldn't prepare myself mentally or physically no matter how hard I tried.

"Say you go in on your own 20 and your play is called. You're whipped to start with because you know there's no way you can run 80 yards even if the play develops perfectly. Some guys are super athletes—they can just jog through practice and do it all on Sunday. I can't. I have to work and work and work and even then it doesn't help much unless I'm in combat on Sunday."

With half of '67 left, Woodeshick has already surpassed his best previous year in the NFL. That was in 1966 when he rushed for 330 yards and caught passes for 118 more.

It hasn't gone unnoticed.

"He's a professional," says Kuharich. "He's one of the hardest working people we have and it's paying off for him—and us. He's got good power, he has that deceptive kind of quickness that lulls a defense into underestimating what he can do outside, and he seems to play better the tougher the going is."

Like when he's hit.

Oakland's Daniels Named AFL Offensive Standout

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The latest honor for Clem Daniels, the Oakland Raiders' versatile halfback, is American Football League Offensive Player of the Week for his performance in Sunday's 51-10 victory over the San Diego Chargers.

In the same game Clem became the first AFL player to reach a career rushing mark of 5,000, surpassing the Chargers' Paul Lowe, who now has 4,047.

After a rough start in pro ball the 220-pound Daniels took his latest honor calmly, remarking that the game against San Diego just might have been the third "perfect" game of his life.

'I doubt if there are many pro backs who can say they've had many perfect days," he said. "I've had two where I felt I had a complete game in which I did everything right. One was a 32-17 loss to Houston in 1962, and the other was a game in 1964. You know, I can't even remember who that was against."

By a perfect game, Daniels explained that he meant one in which he ran well, blocked well caught passe well and ran his pass patterns correctly even when not the receiver.

Pass-catching is a point of pride with the 30-year-old back. He's snared 13 so far this season for 184 hards and two touchdowns.

In the past five seasons he has gained more than 1,000 yards each year in combined rushing and passing. His best year was 1963, when he ran for 1,099 yards and caught for 685. Last season his combined total was 1,453. This year, with seven games to go, his total is 666.

Blanchard Flying In Viet War

NEW YORK (AP) — Felix (Doc) Blanchard, one of the U.S. Military Academy's greatest football players, and John M. (Max) Minor, an Army teammate, have been assigned to flying duty in Vietnam, the Air Force said Wednesday.

Blanchard, a three-time All-America at fullback and winner of the Heisman and Sullivan Trophies in 1945, will join the 388th Tactical Fighter Wing at Korat Air Base in Thailand on Feb. 25, 1968.

Minor, who played halfback, will join the 460th Tactical Reconnaissance Wing at Tonson Nhut Air Base in South Vietnam on Dec. 13. Both men are lieutenant colonels and will fly F-105 fighter planes.

CLEVELAND (AP) — A fall from a fork lift truck killed a freight handler at Cleveland Hopkins Airport Wednesday. Killed was 45-year - old Byron Reynolds, an employe of the Flying Tiger Lines, Inc.

Gay Brewer Wins Hawaiian Pro-Am

HONOLULU (AP) — Gay Brewer carried pro - amateur honors into today's start of the $100,000 Hawaiian Open golf tournament at his favorite course.

Brewer carded a 69 that included a 32 on the back nine Wednesday of the 7,000-yard par-72 Waialae course. He won the first Hawaiian Open over the course in 1965 and last year tied with Billy Casper for second place.

Arnold Palmer, one of the co-favorites with Brewer and Casper, piled up a 79 in the pro am, including a flubbed sand trap shot. But no one was counting him out when the bell rings today.

Casper had 71 in the pro am, as did defending champion Ted Makalena of Hawaii.

Top score for the day, with a handful of the players out, was 67 by Tommy Aaron, the slender, bespectacled Georgian who has a history of leading golf tournaments in the early rounds but seldom on Sunday.

The final two rounds Saturday and Sunday will be televised live to the mainland and England via satellite. Plans to televise live to Japan have been switched to a delayed tape showing.

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — A strike by United Steel Workers Local 6529 Wednesday stopped production and idled more than 400 workers at the Taylor-Winfield Corp. here. Office personnel were not affected by the strike.

MAC Commissioner Orders Kent Forfeit

Mid - American Conference commissioner Robert C. James yesterday ruled that Kent State must forfeit it's lone MAC victory, a 21-14 win over Ohio U., thus putting the Bobcats back in the MAC title chase.

The forfeiture was ordered because a Kent State player participated in the game without meeting the conference requirement of having earned at least 36 quarter hours between seasons. The player, junior end Ted Chester of Avon Lake, and the coaching staff were unaware that Chester was four hours short of the requirements and a routine check by the admissions office turned up the discrepancy. Chester caught a touchdown pass in the win over Ohio U.

The Bobcats now have a 3-1 conference mark, instead of 2-2, and battle co-leader Western Michigan, 4-1, Saturday. Miami and Toledo, which clash Saturday, are also 4-1. Ohio U. faces Bowling Green in its last conference game Nov. 11.

Kent State was 2-5 on the year, but now drops to 1-6 with Ohio U. awarded a 1-0 triumph. Kent offered to forfeit a 35-0 win over Northern Illinois, but the gesture was turned down by the Illinois school.

Junior High Game Cancelled

The game scheduled for this afternoon at Patterson Field between the East Liverpool Junior High All-Stars and Akron St. Vincent has been cancelled by Akron St. Vincent. The East Liverpool All-Stars are scheduled to meet the Canton All-Stars here next Thursday.

Duffy Plans Comeback In Review Yogi Race

Bob Duffy, stung last week, is attempting to get back into the Review Grid Yogi race by being in the minority in five of the nine consensus picks.

The Green Bay Packer-Baltimore Colt game produced a 3-3 split among the Yogis, with Duffy, Bob Shaffer and Tom Futhey taking the Packers and Turk Pierce, Rose Nuzzo and Bob Poole going with the Colts.

Duffy was all alone in taking the Steelers over the Browns. He joined with Poole in taking Houston over Georgia, Miami over Toledo, and United over Southern Local, and combined with Nuzzo in picking Cleveland St. Joseph's over East Liverpool.

Bob Shaffer was the lone wolf in liking Freedom over Midland, and Futhey and Poole were alone in selecting Beaver Local over Toronto. The only unanimous choices were Weirton over Oak Glen and Columbiana over Lisbon.

THE COACH'S CORNER

by BOB McNEA

Boardman High School football team was a big and strong team with fine passing. They were 6 wins and 1 loss going into our game. They lost to Warren Western Reserve 14 to 6 and beat Austintown Fitch 15 to 14. Fitch in turn beat Warren Western Reserve 14 to 8. We beat Boardman much more easily than I thought we would. The first touchdown that was called back was because the official on one side of the field told Tom Chambers, our split end, to move back so the official could see better into the rest of the line. The official from the opposite side called Chambers lining up in our backfield. This nullified our first touchdown. Another touchdown drive was stopped inside the five yard line when a clipping penalty was called against Zeb Boyd. Zeb threw a legal block but at the last second the defensive player turned his back on the block and Zeb barely touched him and the Boardman player did not even fall.

The team fracus that took place should have been easily avoided, Boardman's left guard pulled left on a play and blocked Bob Jones, our defensive right end. He then laid on Jones and preceded to work Jones over for fifteen to twenty seconds right in front of an official. Nothing was done by the official. A Boardman teammate saw what was going on and tried to pull the guard off of Jones but not very successfully. McVay threw a block to free Jones and Boardman players started to go for McVay. Then things got out of hand. Like so many times, the guard that triggered the whole affair did not get hurt, but I have been told that another Boardman boy received a broken nose. This I regret very much. Bob Jones had deep cuts and lost some skin from his back but nothing real serious.

Cleveland St. Joseph High School is not the typical city high school. They are a parochial high school with 2300 boys and they give free tuition and books to all good Catholic Youth Organization grade school football players that have been outstanding in the grade school teams. They beat Canton McKinley the previous two years 19-6 and 25 to 8 so McKinley dropped them as being too tough. The McKinley coach said he would rather play Massillon 10 straight games than St. Joseph 10 in a row.

This is the finest opponent East Liverpool has played in many years. There is not any team in the state that would ever be favored over this team. They defeated Akron St. Vincent 26 to 7 and then St. Vincent beat Niles 20 to 6. They beat Toledo St. Francis, 3rd ranked team in the state, 23 to 21 and led 23 to 8 in the fourth quarter. They have lost one game in the last three years. They have a big line, fast, hard running backs and a strong armed passer. They are extremely agressive on defense. They literally swarm the other team's offense.

When East Liverpool was thinking of playing St. Joseph, my brother Don, who is an avid Cleveland sports follower said "Don't schedule St. Joe, they are too strong." I was talking to the Berea Athletic Director about a game for 1968 and I told him we were thinking of scheduling St. Joe. He said "Oh, gosh, Bob, they are way out of your class. They are too tough." We then went ahead and scheduled them. I think the "Potters" are pretty tough, too. This should be the game of the week in Ohio football.

DO YOU REMEMBER WHEN?

One of the most startling scholastic upsets of the season took place when the Potters beat Bellaire, 7-0 . . . The score came when Dave Anderson grabbed off an intended Bellaire lateral and raced 55 yards . . . Frank Kirkham dropkicked the extra point.

Liverpool participated in the dedication of two new fields . . . The Potters won at New Philadelphia, 18-6, but lost at the new Patterson Field to Martins Ferry, 0-13.

There was talk of the "lack of enthusiasm and the need for bolstering school loyalty and spirit" . . . Football under lights was seen as a possibility if the athletic association's plans developed . . . Probably the first night high school football game in Ohio was staged Oct. 10 at Salem.

Potters opened season at Chester, dedicating Smith Field and won by 39-0 . . . The Toronto game was played in the new stadium there with Liverpool winning, 31-2 . . . The extra game was a charity affair with Midland, proceeds went to the relief of the unemployed in the two cities . . . Incidentally, Midland won, 13-0.

First night game in East Liverpool grid history was played Oct. 10 with Toronto as the opponent . . . Potters won 20-12 with Bob Hall scoring two touchdowns and Garner McCoy getting the other . . . Hall's TDs came on runs of 80 and 60 yards.

CLEVELAND ST. JOSEPH

by BOB McNEA

Boardman High School football team was a big and strong team with fine passing. They were 6 wins and 1 loss going into our game. They lost to Warren Western Reserve 14 to 6 and beat Austintown Fitch 15 to 14. Fitch in turn beat Warren Western Reserve 14 to 8. We beat Boardman much more easily than I thought we would. The first touchdown that was called back was because the official on one side of the field told Tom Chambers, our split end, to move back so the official could see better into the rest of the line. The official from the opposite side called Chambers lining up in our backfield. This nullified our first touchdown. Another touchdown drive was stopped inside the five yard line when a clipping penalty was called against Zeb Boyd. Zeb threw a legal block but at the last second the defensive player turned his back on the block and Zeb barely touched him and the Boardman player did not even fall.

The team fracus that took place should have been easily avoided. Boardman's left guard pulled left on a play and blocked Bob Jones, our defensive right end. Nebraska Top College Defense Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Nebraska is the latest to lead the nation's major-college football teams in total defense, it was disclosed today with the release of the defensive statistics.

The Cornhuskers, the fourth pacesetter in the past six weeks, have yielded an average of 155.3 passing-rushing yardage in six games. Georgia is second with an average yield of 158.2 yards followed by Tulsa, last week's leader, with 169.0.

Syracuse has compiled the best defense against rushing, a mere 46.5 yard average for six games. Georgia has put together the best defense against forward passes, a 63-yard average for six games.

The University of Texas at El Paso shows the best punting mark, 44.1 yards encompassing 33 punts in five games. Houston and Louisiana State are tied for second with 43.8.

Oklahoma has been the toughest to score against, according to the figures compiled by National Collegiate Sports Services. The Sooners' five opponents have scored only 16 points for a 3.2 average.

Assessed Valuation In W. Va. On Utilities Top $1 Billion

CHARLESTON (AP) — Assessed valuations placed on public utility property in West Virginia for tax purposes have topped $1 billion for the first time.

The 1968 valuations of West Virginia property of 324 public utility companies, announced Wednesday by the State Board of Public Works, total $1,011,120,400. This is up $75,284,600 from the 1967 total.

The largest single valuation is $130,500,000 for property of the Appalachian Power Co. Next largest is the Norfolk & Western Railway's $117,500,000.

The board set the final evaluations after conducting hearings last month at which utility representatives had an opportunity to be heard on tentative valuations fixed by the Tax Department.

Electronic data processing was used this year for the first time in the computations.

The Utility Tax Division of the State Auditor's Office will break down the list according to location of the assessed properties. The utilities' 1968 property tax bills, to be mailed next July, will be figured by applying local levy rates to the assessed valuations.

Lowell Tuckwiller, head of the Utility Tax Division, made a "rough estimate" that the 1968 assessed valuation total would yield about $30 million in property tax revenue.

Virtually all of this will go to county governments, county school systems and municipalities. The state will get about $100,000.

Labor Issues Idle 200,000 Across U.S.

By GLENN WOLF

Labor disputes across the country kept more than 200,000 workmen off the job today and partially tied up production in a variety of industries ranging from automobiles to machine guns.

Also involved were such diverse service-type employes as bus drivers, newspapermen and hospital nurses.

Longest, and least optimistic of settlement, was the industry-wide copper strike which entered its 111th day. The walkout widened overnight and there was little hope of settlement before the year's end. More than 50,000 have been idled since the bulk of U.S. copper production was halted July 15.

Although a new national contract between Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers union was ratified and signed days ago, assembly lines remained at a standstill over the sometimes thorny issue of at-the-plant agreements on the local level. Twelve UAW Ford locals were yet to come to terms on these supplements to the national contract.

Production of the M60 machine gun, widely used in the Vietnam war, was halted Wednesday night when 1,500 workers struck the New England division of the Maremont Corp. at Saco, Maine. Some 1,000 members of the Textile Workers Union of America, AFL-CIO, voted Tuesday to reject a new 34-month contract offer. No further negotiations were scheduled.

A walkout by six men in Colorado, equipment installers for Western Electric Co., spread into New Mexico, Arizona, Texas and Utah. A spokesman for the Communications Workers of America, Local 3490, said before the overtime assignment dispute is settled, all 900 of the local's members may be on strike in the seven states where Mountain States Telephone Co. operates.

The lengthy copper industry dispute hit one of the last two major production sites Wednesday night when 1,100 members of United Steel Workers Local 4985 struck Anaconda's International Smelting & Refining Co. at Perth Amboy, N.J. Sources close to the big four producers —Kennecott, Anaconda, American Smelting and Refining Co., and Phelps Dodge—said the dispute may last into January.

No companywide negotiations with the big four have been held for two weeks, none are scheduled and neither side has indicated a softened position. Nineteen unions are involved, and the main issue is pay.

While Ford has called back 20,000 of the 160,000 UAW members who struck the company at midnight Sept. 6, a Ford spokesman said production can't resume until all or virtually all plants are ready to resume operation. A union spokesman said, "The pace they're going (local negotiations), I would think it would be in a week's time."

Meanwhile, negotiations continued at Detroit with Chrysler Corp., the UAW's No. 2 target in contract talks with the automotive big three.

Despite a temporary court injunction ordering 800 bus drivers and maintenance men back to work in Cincinnati, Ohio, there were no buses on the traffic-clogged streets. Lawyers for the union indicated they would go to court and seek to have the injunction overturned.

The strike by the Independent Amalgamated Transit Workers union, Cincinnati's first transit walkout in 54 years, began when the union's contract expired at midnight Tuesday.

Limited operations were resumed at the Sterling (Ill.) Community Hospital with volunteers filling in while a labor dispute with the hospital's 139-member nursing staff still simmered. The hospital had been virtually shut down since Oct. 7. The nurses resigned last week rather than accept a court injunction that enjoined them to end the walkout over salary demands.

A three-day photoengravers' strike that shut down both of Cincinnati's daily newspapers ended today when the union and publishers signed a new contract.

The union and publishers of the Morning Enquirer and the afternoon Post & Times-Star said the contract calls for a wage increase for the photoengravers of $26 a week during a 33-month contract plus fringe benefits.

Pact Agreement Ends Cincinnati Papers' Strike

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—A three-day photoengravers' strike that shut down both of Cincinnati's daily newspapers ended early today when the union and publishers agreed on a new contract.

Negotiators for the Cincinnati Newspaper Publishers Association, representing the morning Enquirer and the afternoon Post & Times-Star, and local 13P of the Lithographers and Photoengravers union announced agreement on the new contract about 5:20 a.m. after a long final bargaining session.

Editor Dick Thornberg of the Post & Times-Star said the paper hopes to publish all editions this afternoon. The strike began Monday, after publication of the Enquirer that day.

All employes of both papers were asked to return to work at their normal starting times today.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN memory of our mother and grandmother Ellen Green, who passed away 2 years ago, November 2, 1965:
The words, the smiles the tears
These we remember through the years. The meals she cooked and bread she baked
Even though her body ached. The sewing and washing, lots to be done
Many a game of euchre she won. Her hands were put through many a test
These are the hands we remember best.
—Sadly missed by everyone who knew her.

IN memory of Donald G. Poole who passed away 3 years ago Nov. 2. We think of him in silence, no eyes can see us weep, but many silent tears are shed when others are asleep, and while angels keep their watch up there, please God just let him know that we, down here do not forget. We love and miss him so.

Assessed Valuation In W. Va. On Utilities Top $1 Billion

CHARLESTON (AP) — Assessed valuations placed on public utility property in West Virginia for tax purposes have topped $1 billion for the first time.

The 1968 valuations of West Virginia property of 324 public utility companies, announced Wednesday by the State Board of Public Works, total $1,011,-120,400. This is up $75,284,600 from the 1967 total.

The largest single valuation is $130,500,000 for property of the Appalachian Power Co. Next largest is the Norfolk & Western Railway's $117,500,000.

The board set the final evaluations after conducting hearings last month at which utility representatives had an opportunity to be heard on tentative valuations fixed by the Tax Department.

Electronic data processing was used this year for the first time in the computations.

The Utility Tax Division of the State Auditor's Office will break down the list according to location of the assessed properties. The utilities' 1968 property tax bills, to be mailed next July, will be figured by applying local levy rates to the assessed valuations.

Lowell Tuckwiller, head of the Utility Tax Division, made a "rough estimate" that the 1968 assessed valuation total would yield about $30 million in property tax revenue.

Virtually all of this will go to county governments, county school systems and municipalities. The state will get about $100,000.

Labor Issues Idle 200,000 Across U.S.

By GLENN WOLF

Labor disputes across the country kept more than 200,000 workmen off the job today and partially tied up production in a variety of industries ranging from automobiles to machine guns.

Also involved were such diverse service-type employes as bus drivers, newspapermen and hospital nurses.

Longest, and least optimistic of settlement, was the industry-wide copper strike which entered its 111th day. The walkout widened overnight and there was little hope of settlement before the year's end. More than 50,000 have been idled since the bulk of U.S. copper production was halted July 15.

Although a new national contract between Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers union was ratified and signed days ago, assembly lines remained at a standstill over the sometimes thorny issue of at-the-plant agreements on the local level. Twelve UAW Ford locals were yet to come to terms on these supplements to the national contract.

Production of the M60 machine gun, widely used in the Vietnam war, was halted Wednesday night when 1,500 workers struck the New England division of the Maremont Corp. at Saco, Maine. Some 1,000 members of the Textile Workers Union of America, AFL-CIO, voted Tuesday to reject a new 34-month contract offer. No further negotiations were scheduled.

A walkout by six men in Colorado, equipment installers for Western Electric Co., spread into New Mexico, Arizona, Texas and Utah. A spokesman for the Communications Workers of America, Local 3490, said before the overtime assignment dispute is settled, all 900 of the local's members may be on strike in the seven states where Mountain States Telephone Co. operates.

The lengthy copper industry dispute hit one of the last two major production sites Wednesday night when 1,100 members of United Steel Workers Local 4985 struck Anaconda's International Smelting & Refining Co. at Perth Amboy, N.J. Sources close to the big four producers —Kennecott, Anaconda, American Smelting and Refining Co., and Phelps Dodge—said the dispute may last into January.

No companywide negotiations with the big four have been held for two weeks, none are scheduled and neither side has indicated a softened position. Nineteen unions are involved, and the main issue is pay.

While Ford has called back 20,000 of the 160,000 UAW members who struck the company at midnight Sept. 6, a Ford spokesman said production can't resume until all or virtually all plants are ready to resume operation. A union spokesman said, "The pace they're going (local negotiations), I would think it would be in a week's time."

Meanwhile, negotiations continued at Detroit with Chrysler Corp., the UAW's No. 2 target in contract talks with the automotive big three.

Despite a temporary court injunction ordering 800 bus drivers and maintenance men back to work in Cincinnati, Ohio, there were no buses on the traffic-clogged streets. Lawyers for the union indicated they would go to court and seek to have the injunction overturned.

The strike by the Independent Amalgamated Transit Workers union, Cincinnati's first transit walkout in 54 years, began when the union's contract expired at midnight Tuesday.

Limited operations were resumed at the Sterling (Ill.) Community Hospital with volunteers filling in while a labor dispute with the hospital's 139-member nursing staff still simmered. The hospital had been virtually shut down since Oct. 7. The nurses resigned last week rather than accept a court injunction that enjoined them to end the walkout over salary demands.

A three-day photoengravers' strike that shut down both of Cincinnati's daily newspapers ended today when the union and publishers signed a new contract.

The union and publishers of the Morning Enquirer and the afternoon Post & Times-Star said the contract calls for a wage increase for the photoengravers of $26 a week during a 33-month contract plus fringe benefits.

Pact Agreement Ends Cincinnati Papers' Strike

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—A three-day photoengravers' strike that shut down both of Cincinnati's daily newspapers ended early today when the union and publishers agreed on a new contract.

Negotiators for the Cincinnati Newspaper Publishers Association, representing the morning Enquirer and the afternoon Post & Times-Star, and local 13P of the Lithographers and Photoengravers union announced agreement on the new contract about 5:20 a.m. after a long final bargaining session.

Editor Dick Thornberg of the Post & Times-Star said the paper hopes to publish all editions this afternoon. The strike began Monday, after publication of the Enquirer that day.

All employes of both papers were asked to return to work at their normal starting times today.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN memory of our mother and grandmother Ellen Green, who passed away 2 years ago, November 2, 1965:
The words, the smiles the tears
These we remember through the years. The meals she cooked and bread she baked
Even though her body ached. The sewing and washing, lots to be done
Many a game of euchre she won. Her hands were put through many a test
These are the hands we remember best.
—Sadly missed by everyone who knew her.

IN memory of Donald G. Poole who passed away 3 years ago Nov. 2. We think of him in silence, no eyes can see us weep, but many silent tears are shed when others are asleep, and while angels keep their watch up there, please God just let him know that we, down here do not forget. We love and miss him so.

Junior Editors Quiz on THE SUN

QUESTION: How does the sun get its energy?

ANSWER: Since ancient times, people have associated the sun with a ball of fire, but no one knew what fuel it was consuming. The puzzle was solved in 1925 when scientists realized that nuclear fusion, the process used in a hydrogen bomb, caused the sun to burn steadily. Many astronomers believe the sun and planets were born from an enormous cloud of gas and dust. As gravitation pulled the sun's mass inward, the sun became a ball; the great heat created in the process caused hydrogen particles to race violently around. These particles collided, starting nuclear fusion. In this process atoms of hydrogen are changed into helium, releasing energy and heat; it is this energy that provides the earth's warmth. The sun will not use up its hydrogen for billions of years. In the meantime, we can all return from vacation suntanned and bursting with energy, like Jack in the picture.
